Little Phil is Proud of Foul Deed

(SPECIAL DISPATCH.)
EL PASO, Oct. 4.—"Of course I'm proud of it," declared "Little Phil" Alguin, 10, as he was removed around the corner to the El Paso Hospital.
"I'm not going back, either, I'm smart for those rube bulls and kids. Why, I even go to El Paso to see my girl, and they don't get on."

He hated the man who has been wanted in Los Angeles for months for the murder of a woman named John J. Fitzgerald. "I'm smart for those rube bulls and kids. Why, I even go to El Paso to see my girl, and they don't get on."

With a twist to his left, a woman and a Latin shrug as his little one shrug and laugh and say "I'm smart for those rube bulls and kids. Why, I even go to El Paso to see my girl, and they don't get on."

CONVENTION HITS BRANCH BANK SYSTEM

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The American Bankers' Association, in convention here, went on record today by a vote of approximately three to one as being opposed to branch banking or the establishment of branch offices by both State and national banks in any form.

After the passage of a resolution expressing this opposition, steps were taken by bankers from Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, New Jersey and Connecticut to form an association of national and State banks and trust companies opposed to branch banking to undertake a campaign for the passage of a Federal statute prohibiting national banks from having branches or more than one office in any State.

A committee composed of three delegates from each of the forty-eight State bankers' associations will meet in Chicago soon. It was announced to plan a national campaign.

Messages from President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon were read by President Theodore E. McKim.

President Harding's message was a plea to the bankers that they "lead in recommending our people to save expenditures, so that a sound economy and spirit, to the consideration of municipal and national problems in that connection, will build the temple of confidence."

In the election of officers, John H. P. Fisher of Milwaukee was chosen president; Walter W. Reed of Omaha, first vice-president, and William W. Knox, second vice-president.

The resolution opposing the establishment of branch banks was placed before the convention by Samuel B. Jefferies, vice-president of the National City Bank of St. Louis.

Evan's Love Notes Read by Attorney

(SPECIAL DISPATCH.)
SCHENECTADY (N. Y.), Oct. 4.—Supreme Court Justice Brown today reserved decision after listening to arguments on the petition of Charles Firestone, counsel for Evan Whitney, son of Harry Payne Whitney, and his counsel to accept service of the summons and complaint in Mrs. Firestone's suit for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise and the support of her child, who she declares, is a son of young Whitney.

The long legal debate was embittered by the reading of letters said to have been written by the oriental dancer to Sterling Adair, the young sailor to whom she was married when 14 years old, before she met Whitney, and by Attorney Firestone's objections to the introduction of such matter at this time.

PUZZLE OF GHOSTS IS REVEALED

Inspectors Find Spook in Chicago Only Action of Water on Wires
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—It has fallen to the lot of two electrical inspectors to solve the mystery of the "Clifton avenue ghost" which has terrorized a part of Chicago's population for five nights.

The ghostly rumbling and squeals first were heard Saturday night and every night since then have loads of police and hundreds of residents of the neighborhood have been endeavoring to locate the spook.

Today two investigators for the Commonwealth Edison Company discovered that water is to blame for the rumblings. The two technical deaths after tracing, retracing, sounding, listening and otherwise practicing various sorts of scientific magic in the vicinity, announced that the noises were caused by the making and breaking of the electrical current by water in an electric conduit.

STIRRING DEFENSE APPEAL MADE BY GEN. HARBORD

Heavy Dividends Promised on "Rising Army Market," Before Convention of Reserve Officers
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—With the War Department already seriously curbed by scant appropriations in its effort to hold together an adequate land defense for the nation, and with the prospect of further reductions in defense appropriations planned by Congress, Maj.-Gen. J. G. Harbord, Deputy Chief of Staff, made a stirring appeal before the reserve officers' convention here today for "a rising market on the Army."

Gen. Harbord likened the army to a great insurance corporation in which the people and the reserve officers were stockholders, and members of Congress the board of directors.

"See that your representatives, our directors," said Gen. Harbord, "here in the nation's capital not far from the main office of the firm, know your wishes and under the lash of your displeasure see to it that they carry them out."

In department stores, railroad terminals, business buildings and confectionery and other stores served by the only two companies in the city that make a business of rat catching, protection was only partial or passive.

W. G. Geeske, head of the W. G. Geeske Sanitary Engineering organization, said that the men of his company and those men of the other rat-catching concern, apparently got together, formed a little union and set about to change the conditions of their calling.

Turks and Allies Reach Agreement Regarding Thrace

ATHENS, Oct. 4.—The Minister of War today issued a proclamation calling upon all able-bodied citizens who do not belong to the mobilized forces to volunteer in the Greek army until the end of the present conflict with Turkey.

AGREEMENT REACHED
By Henry Wahne
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—The Allied and Turkish Nationalist representatives have signed an agreement awarding Thrace to the Turks and placing Constantinople under the dual control of the Turkish Nationalists and Allies.

A military protocol regulating the Near East situation was signed at 8 o'clock last night on board a ship off Mudania. The Nationalists agree that the Allies shall remain at Constantinople pending definite peace negotiations but Nationalists will install civil authorities there which will result in dual administration of the city.

The Turks are to evacuate the neutral zone and will retire from Chanak.

"Ismet Pasha did not insist on pressing the question of Constantinople, reserving discussion as to the status of the capital to the peace conference. He outlined, however, a plan for a Nationalist civil administration to be established there the same as in Thrace, resulting in the Turkish controlling civil life and leaving the Allies

Imperial Wizard Protests Declares He Will Resign in Near Future

ATLANTA (Ga.), Oct. 4.—Formal withdrawal from all official connection with the Ku Klux Klan will be made on November 10 by Edward Young Clarke, Imperial Wizard of the order.

Mr. Clarke at the same time said the first national convention of the Klan would be held in Atlanta the first week in November and he desired to relinquish authority as Col. Simmons, who he said to have recovered his health.

In a statement, accompanying his resignation, Mr. Clarke said that more than a year ago, when the attack on the Klan was at its height and he was the principal target, he announced his intention of retaining his position until organization of the machine was completed.

OLD GUARD GETS FULL BROADSIDE

Gov. Cox at Indiana Rally Says Administration Now on Defensive
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
RICHMOND (Ind.), Oct. 4.—Evidence of discontent with the present national administration are "widespread," it was declared here tonight by James M. Cox, Dayton, O., leader of the opposition to the Presidency on the Democratic ticket. He spoke at a rally of Democrats.

In the coming Congressional and Senatorial campaign, he asserted, "the administration, by the sheer force of events, is placed on the defensive at the very outset."

Ellihu Root's appearance before New York Republicans was branded by Cox as the "survival of a fittest" in a grave situation, in so far as it involves the administration.

"One is neither person nor party," he said, "but a citizen. It is estimated that many clients who go to Mr. Root are in a pretty tight hole," the former Presidential candidate continued.

"His services have been enlisted by the Old Guard within his party upon many occasions when emergency was at hand."

Mr. Root's recent speech in the New York convention was discussed at length by Cox. He said the Republican speaker "invoked his every power of philosophy and sophistry to make the best of a weak cause."

Both were sentenced by Judge Ward to twenty-four hours' imprisonment, but fellow-attorneys secured their release from the County Jail later on writs of habeas corpus returnable next Tuesday.

Herron is not directly concerned in the trial of Wilkens, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Anna Wilkens, but is representing Arthur Castor, prosecution witness, who was being cross-examined today, in fictitious check charges pending against Castor.

NAVY MAN SUICIDE

BROOKLINE (Mass.), Oct. 4.—Capt. William Winder, U.S.N., retired, committed suicide by shooting himself today. His body was found in an abandoned pathway with a revolver beside it. Capt. Winder was on the Raleigh at the battle of Manila.

FLOODS IN FLORIDA

MIAMI (Fla.), Oct. 4.—Several towns in the Lake Okechobee district are inundated as a result of high water in the Everglades, according to reports received here tonight from Moorehaven. South-west Moorehaven, the advice said, is a body of water forty miles long and a half mile wide.

DISTRICT IN DARKNESS

HOWARD M. KIMBALL, aged 33, of Arcadia, a cable splicer for the City Bureau of Light and Power, was severely burned about the face and sections of the downtown district were thrown into darkness at 10 o'clock this morning when a cable Kimball was working on at Second and Spring streets short circuited. Kimball was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

FOUR FIREMEN KILLED

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—Four firemen lost their lives early today in a blaze that practically destroyed the leather factory of Siroboda and Sons and the warehouse of Joseph Deltak. They were trapped in an elevator and suffocated. Several others were overcome by smoke and fumes from burning chemicals. The monetary loss was placed at $250,000.

The capture of Hazel Chandler, 20 years old, at Long Beach was reported to Los Angeles last night by Sergt. Boyce of Long Beach, who said Margaret Bell, 27 years old, her companion, had escaped from Los Angeles Hospital September 27, was taken with her, Jackie Young, a third inmate of the hospital, who disappeared with these two, was apprehended. Hazel Chandler was described by hospital officials as bearing a tattooed scar above each knee.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), Oct. 4.—James C. Howard, the slayer of Tom Slaughter, noted bandit, has a furlough from the penitentiary granted by Gov. McRae. It was learned today when he arrived here from Tucker Farm on his way home to Howard county. He will be free until Jan. 1, 1924, it is said.

CAR ADDED TO MYSTERY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.), Oct. 4.—A mystery car with three occupants—two men and a woman—was added today to the conflicting mass of clues among which Middlesex and Somerset county authorities are groping in their efforts to apprehend the slayers of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt, Mills.

A. E. Soper, retired business man of Highland Park, came forward with the story of this car. Nearly three weeks ago, on the night of the murders, Soper told the authorities, he passed a sedan in Delaware's Lane, close to the spot where the bodies were found.

ALGUIN MAY BE DEPORTED

Hope for Capture of Assorted Slayer Contained in Statement of Mexican Governor
Lado Pao Alguin, alias Benito Baca, confessed slayer of Detective John Fitzgerald, may be deported from Juarez, Mex., and across the international border, according to Gov. Ignacio Enríquez of Chihuahua.

The hint that Alguin may be deported by the Mexican government came from Gov. Enriquez's statement of Detective Smith, of El Paso police, Sam Dreben and C. C. Harvey were released from the Juarez jail under $1000 bail each. The three Americans are on automobile driven by Vice-consul Harper across the international border into El Paso at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

Chief Oka, and Chief Edwards of El Paso, with a small army of police officers and friends, greeted the liberated Americans when they crossed the border. A brief visit to the El Paso station by the entire party was followed at once by the Vice-consul.

NAVAL BASE FIGHT LOOMS Demand for Yard at Alameda Stirs Backers of Mare Island; Swing Loses Plums

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—If the Director of the Budget approves the demand of the Secretary of the Navy that an appropriation of $100,000 be made for a new Navy yard at Alameda there will be a fight on the naval appropriations for the West Coast.

Island advocates, who have been powerful in the past, are now known today that the Navy had made the decision to build a new yard at Alameda, which will be the largest and most modern of the kind in the world.

GREECE CALLS PEOPLE TO WAR

 He stipulated, however, that the complete military and naval control of Turkish territory, including the capital, must eventually be put in the hands of the Turkish state.

The Turks agreed to respect the neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles. The problem of guaranteeing the removal of military control and establishing the neutrality of the straits is to be discussed at the peace conference.

The protocol, drawn up this afternoon, includes six articles. The first is concerned with the evacuation of the Turkish frontier and the restoration of Turkish territory. The second and third are refused transmission by the censor. The fourth covers the neutral zone. The fifth is concerned with the evacuation of Constantinople. The sixth deals with the measures to be taken against the Greeks. If they refuse to execute the demand.

LOVE NOTE READ IN COURTROOM

 by Cornelius J. Sullivan and other members of the firm of Nicol, Anable, Fuller & Sullivan of New York.

Against Evan's pleading, the Whitney defense was attacked. There came from them no denial of Evan's relations with her or of the fact that she had been seduced by him.

Instead they attempted to show that Evan was married to Sterling Adair, that she had lived with him as a wife, that she had secured annulment of her marriage to him by perjury and fraud and that she had no right to contract marriage with Young Whitney and consequently has no right to claim breach of promise.

"We intend to show," said Mr. Leary, "that Adair met this woman on a train. She thought him a bright prospect and tried to anchor him. We show that they were married and that she and her husband live together. Later she tried to enter into a fraudulent scheme with him in order to get the marriage annulled."

Mr. Leary then introduced the following letter, which he asserted Evan wrote to Adair on March 27, 1919.

"Dearest sweetheart: As you will see by the top of this page I am in my little dressing room as I write. It is intermission, and one while I used to go out with my ditto to a picture show or to the Claridge. Oh, those sweet happy days when I thought of my little husband working only down as far as Wall street, and, oh, how happy I was when 5:30 would come and you would come home, home to me, my little wife. God, I loved you, and darling, I love you just twice as much for every mile you are away now."

"In my dreams and thoughts I am thousands of miles off down in Houston, Tex., with my love, my great love, and I am driving or eating with you, or swimming, or a number of other sweet things, or perhaps I am just beside you talking and looking up into your face and telling as I have told you many times, that I love you and trust you, and believe in all I know you can do if you try."

"Oh, honey, I am glad you are taking your time about getting settled for you know you want to make a future for me. Oh, honey, love me. You don't love me as much as I love you. Good-night, sweetheart, I just love you, love you, love you, with all my heart, mind, soul, body. Oh, I'm crazy, yes, about my sweet husband and the fact that she had no right to contract marriage with Young Whitney and consequently has no right to claim breach of promise."

Mr. Firestone objected vehemently to the attack on Evan, pointing out that the Whitney lawyers had already brought an action in Rockland county to have the annulment of her marriage to Adair set aside, and that the argument they were making was pertinent to that action, but not to the breach of promise suit of its present stage. He declared that until the annulment is reversed Evan is as if she had never been married and it must be held that she had the right to contract marriage with Young Whitney.

Justice Best indicated that he did not share Mr. Firestone's view.

APPEALS FOR LAND DEFENSE

 Army, and he promises you heavy dividends in the next emergency."

Gen. Harbord described himself as an executive officer in the firm of Uncle Sam, Ltd., assistant to General Manager Pershing, who works under the chairmanship of the local board, John W. Weeks.

"The operation of our firm is controlled," he said, "through the great, holding company whose board of directors meets under the dome of the Capitol, in which all of you are stockholders, and no small number of you are preferred creditors."

Gen. Harbord then described the troubles of the firm prior to and during the great war, its reorganization under the National Defense Act and leading up to the present administration. After going into detail about the organization of the new army, just before the Harding administration began, Gen. Harbord said:

"For a few months prospects for the firm were bright. A complete change of management soon took place, Chairman Baker being succeeded by Mr. Weeks, and General Manager March giving way to Pershing. The new management promised retrenchment and a reduction in expenses, realizing, however, that there was an irreducible minimum below which the firm could not go and continue business without shrinkage of personnel, the abandonment of much of our market and the closing down of many of our industries."

"The truth is that your directors are much out of touch with stockholders, and we believe are not carrying out your wishes."

ASSESSMENTS HEAVY
 "It is a fact that heavy assessments on the shareholders have been necessary to carry out even a diminished program for the firm."

"The management, however, cannot bring itself to believe that your stockholders wish to perpetuate the vicious circle of false economy bringing unpreparedness with its train of untold cost in blood and gold, compelling further parsimony to bring about a reputation of the same shabby history in time yet to come."

"We claim that your board of directors does not know your wishes, or if it does, it does not act upon them, and substitutes its judgment for yours—its judgment"

The loss is estimated at $75,000.

THE OLD MAN

By the Author of Letters From a Self-Made Merchant to His Son

During the winter the old man, who at seventy has retired from business—but not so far that he does not slip back to it now and then—will give the views of an old-timer on the new generation. These range from comment on the works of our young intellectuals, in office hours and out—he concedes their youth and thinks that their case calls for a doctor more often than a editor—to the lives of that particular section of society for whom he concludes that "Home is where the hooch is." The old man's little journey through the world has taken him from the farm to the factory; from Main Street to Fifth Avenue; and he has had experience both with capital and labor—and the lilies of the field.

FLETCHER'S

SUPPORTING

RICHARDSON

Former Stephens Champion Declares for Republican Nominee

Col. Ed Fletcher of San Diego,

one of the principal counselors of

Gov. Stephens in Southern California, and regarded as the chief spokesman for the Stephens administration in this end of California, yesterday unequivocally declared his allegiance to Friend

M. Richardson, Republican nominee for Governor, and promised to give Richardson his hearty support.

"I shall support Richardson and do everything in my power to elect him," said Col. Fletcher.

"Although I supported Stephens and was defeated, I would not be a poor loser indeed if I did not support Richardson."

Col. Fletcher does not believe that the west Democratic nominee will succeed in attracting any considerable number of Republican votes.

"Richardson is a Progressive,"

he said, "and has served his State

well as treasurer, has pledged economy of administration, and I am sure he will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

"There is every reason why this

State should go Republican. The election of a Democrat would certainly reflect upon the State at Washington. This State needs protection more than any other in the Union and the election of a Democratic Governor would be a direct blow in the face for the Republican party, which has lately given

FIRE PREVENTION

John D. Maxfield Tells of "Innocent" Dangers

Musical Programs Carry Special Appeal

Fernandez Gives the Night Concert

Maxfield had its attention yesterday to little thought of the danger which is traceable to the use of electrical devices. When John D. Maxfield, director of the safety and fire prevention department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, spoke over the Times radio yesterday afternoon, this was the first time that the fire prevention week, next Saturday being proclaimed as National Fire Prevention Day, marking the fifty-first anniversary of the greatest conflagration this country ever has known—The Great Fire, Mr. Maxfield pointed out to his listeners to avoid the handling of electrical devices which have become fixtures in daily home use. He laid particular stress on the fact that most of the accidents are caused by the use of electric devices, which are really no protection at all because they lack the sensitivity that once was a margin of safety.

These vocalists and a violinist presented the musical part of yesterday's broadcast from K.H.J., Virginia Fisher, soprano, who has been heard several times over K.H.J., whose clearly intoned voice and gentle phrasing have earned for her new admirers each time she appeared. Three solos yesterday afternoon. She was accompanied by Gertrude Tompkins, a new pupil of Leopold who has been heard during the last summer in the west and who has been singing during the last summer in the west and who has been singing during the last summer in the west.

John Doane of New York city, Miss Tompkins has a number of songs and injects into her performance a sympathetic quality which is essential to the success of a radio broadcast.

His right concert was arranged through the courtesy of Senor Juan Fernandez, who not only has beautiful intonation, but who has a charming personality, which, unfortunately, only reaches the audience in but small part. Senor Fernandez originally was a baritone, but he has developed a rich dramatic tenor with a powerful characteristic of deep and warm emotion. Accompanying him last night was a pianist, a concert pianist of his own, whose work is a masterpiece among the musical world. Senor Fernandez sang three in English and three in Spanish.

Senor Fernandez is a pianist, who played two excellent ones with a finesse that is beyond the reach of the average. He played the first one with a selection and interpretation that motif with a true understanding of artistic values.

Are your Baking Always Uniform?

The very first time you use Calumet your baking will be perfectly raised, sweet and wholesome. And you can expect unfailing uniformity just as long as you continue to use it, because

BEST BY TEST

CALUMET
The Economy BAKING POWDER

Never varies. The can you buy to-day holds the same quality and leavening strength as the first can that was made thirty-five years ago. In every can the last spoonful is as good as the first.

There is no substitute for Calumet—nothing "just as good." Its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

MOTHER WANTS BOY
Lad, Who Sought to See World Believed to be Here

The mother of 15-year-old James Ryan is heartbroken. James wanted to see the world. So about three weeks ago he left his home in New York. His mother has had no word of him since.

James is a tall, dark-haired boy with light skin. When last seen he wore a dark, tight-fitting suit, long trousers and a brown soft hat.

It is almost certain that James Ryan came directly to Los Angeles. If he or anyone knowing of him will communicate with the Travelers' Aid Society, 222 Pacific Finance Building, his mother's heart will be eased.

Twenty-eight dealers attended the last meeting of the Southern California Radio Trade Association, held at the Y.M.C.A. Radio School Tuesday evening. During the meeting it was decided to elect a paid secretary, who could spend his entire time getting new members for the association, and organizing dealers in this section. It is understood that the association is on the lookout for a secretary who has organizing ability and who at the same time is free to give his attention entirely to the interests of the association.

Mrs. C. M. Wason, 174 Cham Place, Walnut Park, appreciates the twenty-minute listening period between 7:15 and 7:40 each evening. So also does Miss Helen McAdam, Altadena, who writes that she wishes the listening period could be lengthened to an hour's time. Stations heard by Miss McAdam during the listening period Tuesday evening were K.L.X., Oakland; K.L.P., Los Altos; and KZN, Salt Lake. This latter station seems in Southern California to be the most consistently heard distant broadcaster.

The G.E. broadcast station at Schenectady, N. Y., has adopted a novel method of keeping the listener satisfied that he has not lost the station during the intermission periods, or slight delays between selections. It is by the insertion of an audio-frequency oscillator in the transmitting circuit, which causes a whistle to be on the air continuously between numbers. It often happens that a listener thinks he is out of tune when there is any delay. The musical note persisting during the intermission enables him to know that he is still in tune with the station.

Using an antenna fifteen feet high, composed of four strands fifty feet long and spaced four feet apart, Myron Hester, 157 North Serrano, has heard the following broadcasters: KZN, K.D.L., Salt Lake; KPAB, K.L.Z., Denver; K.L.P., Los Altos; K.U.O., San Francisco; K.W.G., Stockton; K.Q.W., San Jose; K.L.X., Oakland; K.F.B.K., Sacramento; K.M.J., Fresno; K.J.J., Sunnyvale, and K.G.G., Portland.

Through error it was announced in The Times of Wednesday morning that Bernice Mitchell sang from K.H.J. Tuesday evening. This should have read Bernice McCall.

Thursday, Bullock's Hemming Day

Bullock's Sportswear Store
Outdoor Clothes for Women

Bullock's Sportswear Store introduces

Velour Hats

—with particular stress upon their adaptability for out-door wear.

—They are visitors to our southern climes from Austria—the source of beautiful velour—

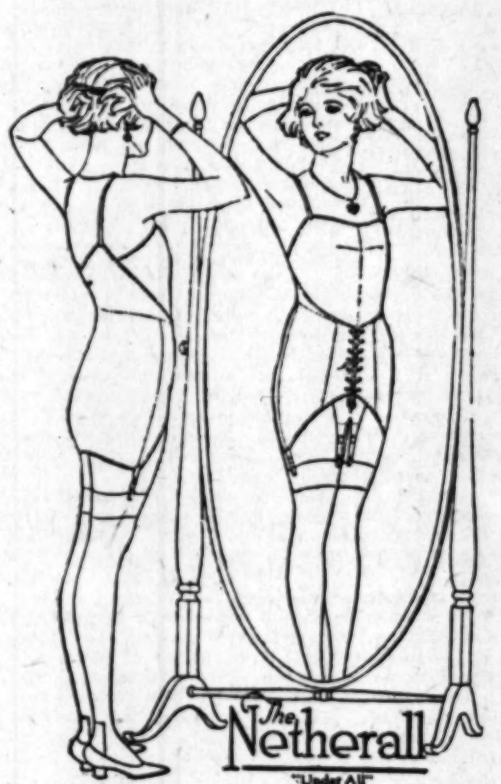

—Four shapes—two large—two small.

—Can be banded in grosgrain ribbon—or draped in batik and novelty silk scarfs and handkerchiefs—(the newest note in sportswear millinery)—

—Black, Navy, Purple, Chartreuse, Brown, Teal—

—Dobbs Hats have also caught the trend toward Velour and are at Bullock's Sportswear Store this very minute in a wide selection of smart styles.

—Bullock's Seventh Street Building—Entrance on Seventh Street.

—New! At Bullock's first in Los Angeles!

The Netherall

—The combination Vest, Circle and Brassiere that has taken New York by storm—

—It is at Bullock's the first time in Los Angeles—

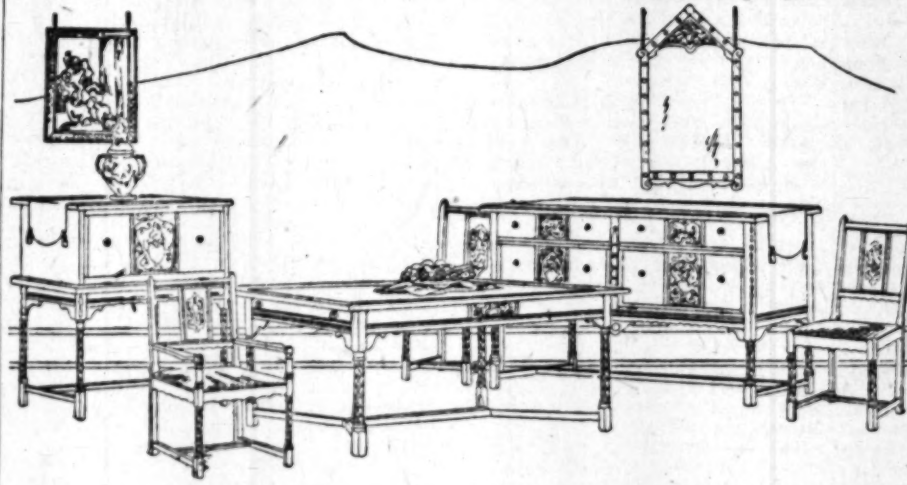

—The Netherall—ask to see it. It was designed particularly for slight and slender figures in one of this season's greatest New York Stage productions—

—Its popularity off the stage for every day wear has brought it clear across the continent.

—The Netherall is quickly laundered—does not need to be ironed—it is made of suede cloth and silk tricot—in flesh, orchid and white—and priced at $5.00 to $10.00—

—Typical of Southern California—just as if it had really been designed for our sunny clime.

—The Netherall—for slight and slender figures—first time in Los Angeles—at Bullock's Corset Section—tomorrow—Fourth Floor—Seventh Street Building.

—Old English Dining Suite, $397.50. Finer Furniture to the last detail of hand carving—10 pieces including mirror for use over sideboard. Built in solid Mahogany, solid Walnut, solid Oak, with all interiors solid oak. These suites have caused spirited buying and favorable comment.

—The day on which Bullock's calls special attention to the service of hemming (without charge) diapers, material for which is purchased at Bullock's. These values in material, too, are of interest:

—250 yards 31-inch fine Clydella Flannel, 95c yard.

—500 yards 27-inch Fleece Flannelette, 25c yd.

—2000 yards 27-inch white Outing, 20c yard.

—Red Star Diaper Cloth, 18 to 30 inches wide, $1.35 to $2.40 for 10-yard bolts.

—Bullock's Second Floor.

K N N

Bullock's Radiophone

During October, "Bullock's K N N," will be on the air in the afternoon three times a week:

Monday, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, 2:15 to 3 p.m.

Thursday, 4 to 5 p.m.

Program

October 5, Thursday, 4 to 5 p.m.

Edward Langley

Art Director of the Douglas Fairbanks Studio, will speak on "The Art of the Art Director."

Mirzah Ahmad Sahrah

Lecturer and Scholar of Eschschol, Persia, former Secretary of the Persian Legation at Washington, D. C., will speak on "Constantinople, the Meeting Ground of the East and the West."

Ada Chapman Lawrence
Dramatic soprano, recently of Chicago, will sing: "It's Raining to Me" (Harding); "Love's Old Sweet Song" (Molloy); "The Blue Bird" (Krummer); "Gray Days" (Johnson).

Ada Shryack Harsin Accompanist.

Silk

Petticoats

$6.95

—And they are petticoats which have all the brilliant charm which such underthings should have, made as they are from fine jersey and radium-silks.

—There are straight hem models, and others with scalloped edge flounces; and almost any desire for color can be met in this group of 100 petticoats which are to sell for $6.95.

—Bullock's Petticoat Section, Fourth Floor, Seventh Street Bridgeway.

A Farrar

Concert

at Home

—This great artist has made the following Victor records for you to enjoy:

Madam Butterfly (Some Day He'll Come)—$1.75.

Carmen (Habenera)—$1.25

Zaza (The Kiss) with De Luca—$1.50

Tosca (Love and Music)—$1.75

Serenade (Sing, Smile, Slumber)—$1.25

Robin Adair—$1.25

—Bullock's Phonograph Section—Sixth Floor—Seventh Street Bridgeway.

Reed

Carriages

$35.00

—Woven from fine oval reed in the popular shell pattern; lined with genuine corduroy; corduroy windshield; reversible gears; 14-inch rubber tired wheels; gray or ivory finish.

—Bullock's Fourth Floor.

Bicycles

$34.75

$39.50

—And the keen interest of wheel-wanting boys is strongly focused on Bullock's—

—For Bullock's bicycle models and values are proving intensely desirable!

—The two styles of bicycles at $34.75 and $39.50, have 20-inch drop bar frames—suitable for boys 10 years and over.

—Equipped with coaster brakes, mud guards, motorcycle handle-bars, extra large leather seats with double springs, stands.

—Single bar frames, $34.75.

—Double bar frames with truss forks, $39.50.

—Bullock's Fifth Floor.

Children's

Athena

Underwear

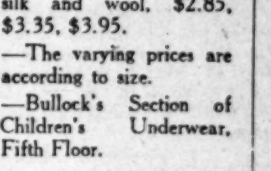

—Apropos is the suggestion that crisp fall and winter days are near, when children's new supply of warm-giving underwear needs must be ready. Bullock's is ready with:

—Low-necked, elbow-sleeved vests; medium weight cotton, 65c, 75c, 95c; wool, 95c, $1.25, $1.50; silk and wool, $1.50, $1.95, $2.35.

—Union Suits: Medium weight cotton, $1.15, $1.35, $1.50; wool, $1.75, $2.15, $2.50; silk and wool, $2.85, $3.35, $3.95.

—The varying prices are according to size.

—Bullock's Section of Children's Underwear, Fifth Floor.

—Solid mahogany; design showing Spanish influence; a very decorative piece finished in antique.

—Bullock's Seventh Floor.

CHIEF OAKS AND LITTLE PHIL

Because the American government refuses to give official recognition to the Obregon government in Mexico, "Little Phil" Alquist, dope fiend and confessed murderer, has found a haven of refuge from American justice in Juarez, and three Americans who attempted to spirit him across the border have been in jail there, while a mob paraded the streets threatening to lynch them.

However, as soon as the Obregon government was officially apprised of the facts, it promptly ordered the release on nominal bail of the three Americans held in the Juarez cool for participating in the raid. The trio was escorted to the border by a troop of Mexican cavalry to insure their safety from the angry mob. In taking this action the government of the northern republic shows a commendable unwillingness to stand upon technicalities or to profit by its undoubted advantage in the situation. The Obregon administration has waited long and so far in vain for recognition by the United States and a disposition to refrain from interference with the local authorities of Juarez would have been readily understood. The action in ordering the liberation of the raiders, who were apparently legally in the wrong, will raise the cause of Mexico in the estimation of American citizens.

When two governments of adjacent territory have no lawful intercourse with each other criminals are certain to profit; for the hands and feet of the law are shackled. If extradition were possible "Little Phil" would have been convicted and hanged months ago; for the slaying of Bert Fitzgerald of the Los Angeles police force was foul murder. But, because the two governments do not mutually function, he has been able to walk the streets of a Mexican city and boast openly of the murder he committed in this country.

In leading a band that attempted to bring by force an American citizen who had committed murder in Los Angeles across the border Chief Oaks expressed a questionable venture. If extradition were possible it would be wholly indefensible for it would be a clear violation of the rights of Mexico. But, when one considers that it was the only way in which a criminal could be brought to justice, the episode assumes a different character.

For months there has existed a kind of "gentlemen's agreement" between the police forces of El Paso and Juarez, under which the police on each side of the border have at times aided each other in apprehending criminals who were refugees from justice in their respective countries. A tentative agreement had been reached between the El Paso and Juarez police in regard to "Little Phil," and Chief Oaks went to Juarez to bring him back. But it appears that the Mexican troops guarding the border either were not at fault to what was taking place or they decided to protect the murderer, because, although of American birth, he was of Mexican parentage.

They were within their legal rights when they stopped the automobile, released the prisoner and captured in turn three of his abductors; but it was contrary to the "gentlemen's agreement." Now the question arises, what crime, if any, was committed by those who attempted to abduct "Little Phil"? How far should the government of the United States and of the city of Los Angeles go in defending them?

It is an unfortunate situation, one from which the criminal inclined will probably reap an advantage. But such situations are bound to occur so long as the government of Mexico is not recognized by that of the United States. Where international law does not function crimes against both human and property rights are certain to multiply. It is time for the United States government to realize that, while we stand on technicalities and delay recognition, life and property on both sides of the border can receive but partial protection from the law.

THE IGNORANTUS IN ABROAD

Uncle Sam doesn't have to go to Asia Minor or China or the Balkan country to remedy foreign mistakes. He has some hashish, home-made and home-served, readily capable of taxing all his curative powers. In this land of enlightenment the political ignoramus is abroad and to our own people he is a more immediate problem than the terrible Turk.

Senator Stanley of Kentucky, in a biting speech delivered at New Orleans, has just placed the leading American political issue squarely before the American nation. Our national industries, he tells us, are staggering under a host of oppressive laws. He sees in the trend of general legislative interference with all business activities, large or small, "a political revolution that threatens the life of the nation."

This, while perhaps a somewhat exaggerated view, may yet come unpleasantly near the truth should small-bore politicians continue to exercise control over the property, the rights and liberties of the individual citizens of America.

But the Kentucky Senator doesn't give as much hope of any let-up in the activities of busy-bodies in Congress. Right now fifty bills are pending to provide additional government control of industries that have so far escaped the scourge. And, since these, for the most part, are supported by different blocs and lobbies—that exchange votes to gain one another's support—their number will be increased.

Senator Stanley has pertinently why these ignoramus with no special knowledge of the trades or businesses for which they would legislate should be permitted to go on "tinkering with business as a quack doctor tinkers with the human body?"

But the term "Progressive" covers a multitude of sins. They are not really progressive, of course. Their ideas are not original. Their experiments in state socialism were tried out in Europe centuries ago—and failed.

Yet these "Progressives," who would turn these United States into a medieval Germany or a Spartan bureaucracy, are, through the power of numerous organized minorities, coloring the whole legislation of the country. To them the moon in the water is really a piece of green cheese—or rather they would have their constituents believe so. Then they can promise them a bite at the green luxury in return for their votes.

The electors, by their verdict in 1920, demanded more business in government and less government in business. Fifty bills nevertheless are at present before Congress, all inquisitorial, all proposed interferences in people's private affairs.

And so They May Go to War About It

The worst feature of this new regulation of anything and everything in the heaven above or the earth beneath or the waters under the earth is the thick and viscous ignorance the promoters of these bills of interference display with reference to the trades and markets and industries they would bind with their legislative fetters.

THE PROTECT OF THE IMMIGRANT

Signor Ricci, Italian Ambassador to America, hopeless of any change in the American attitude toward immigration, advises Italy to seek another outlet for her immigrants. In a long interview in which he protests against the strictures of new immigration laws he suggests that the Italians "go to a country in which Anglo-Saxons do not so predominate that their refusal to treat with even the Latin on a basis of equality."

Such a statement, from so distinguished a source, is indeed substantial, but it must be pointed out in this respect that the Italian immigrants, if they have experienced unequal treatment, have simply encountered the most fundamental law governing all immigration: a people, a law, not peculiar to America, but functioning alike in all the nations of the world. Americans themselves have felt it as aliens in foreign countries. Immigration is the movement of a population into a country for the purpose of settlement, as distinguished from settlement by colonization and settlement by conquest. Immigrants, in contrast to colonists, enter a country already occupied and a state already established by others. As apart from settlers by conquest they do this only at the consent of the earlier inhabitants whose laws they submit to.

There is not now nor has been any discrimination between the white races in America. Any evidence of inequality which Ambassador Ricci may have noticed is purely the result of this law which has functioned automatically since the days of the Helvetians. Seniority has and does obtain precedence in every field of human activity. It is a rule holding as well in the trades unions as on the Supreme bench of the United States.

The Italian element has composed one of the finest ingredients of the melting pot. Italians have made industrious and responsible citizens. In music, drama and the arts they made valuable contributions, they have many dominant figures in the field of finance. They are an accepted and valued component of American life. The status of inequality which the newer immigrants seem to feel is a temporary and passing phase. It disappears entirely in the second and third generations when the processes of adjustment have given way to fixed standing and importance. The Italian immigrants will experience some difficulty in finding any experience government which will welcome them on an immediate basis of strict equality. Some newcomer always occupies a more or less perilous position in any long-established organization till he has proved himself an asset.

The present immigration laws, stringent as they may appear, embody the selective and not the restrictive principle. Immigration from other nations has been reduced each to 3 per cent of its present population in America. The effect has been to stop the influx of southern peoples whose quotas are already filled for a long time to come and to encourage the entrance of northern peoples.

There is no disguising the fact that the rigid enforcement of the present immigration laws has been attended with heart-breaking suffering and misery. There is no defense for the American consular service which extracts a fee for a passport visa to America which is worthless. The Atlantic steamship lines which sell tickets and to transport immigrants to America, knowing that they will not be allowed to land, should meet with swift prosecution. Thousands of Hungarians, Italians and Rumanians who had sold their homes and belongings and embarked on the great adventure to the land of wealth and opportunity, have been turned back on its very shores, sent struggling back to homes they forsook in the brightness of hope, to begin life over again, broken in spirit and means.

Signor Ricci denies that the Italians have resented Americanization, but admits that they do resent Anglo-Saxonization. Assuming that this is true, the American government takes no lively interest in the attempt of foreign peoples to preserve their distinct racial traits and characteristics in a country which is striving for a united population and a national character.

There will always be movements of peoples, shifting of populations and population centers. The steady increase of the numbers of people on the earth means a taking up of more and more of the earth's surface until concentration will reach a state of density yet undreamed of. Immigrants must, in the far distant future, be admitted. But, while there is yet substance in the mother countries, while there are yet vast and fertile territories in Australia and South America, the United States will continue to exercise her prerogative of selecting her immigrants.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

Success "Secrets" of Thomas J. Thompson

Not so many years ago a lad well in his teens started work for the Standard Oil Company of Indiana as a drayman for about $2 a month—not so many days ago this same lad was appointed a director of this same company at a salary of $80,000 a year. The prodigious rise of Thomas J. Thompson, who climbed from a drayman to director, were slow but steady. Within a year he had become a tank-wagon driver. Then he began to study. He mastered not only the scale of his work but those ahead of him, but academic subjects as well. Almost imperceptibly, but constantly, he forged ahead, until two years ago he was made general manager of the sales department and finally director of the company.

"I have but one fundamental formula for success," says Mr. Thompson, "and that is work, work, work. I do not care what a man's abilities are—he may be a genius or a fool. He must have the will to succeed without careful preparation and extended effort. The world is filled with failures who possessed all the talent necessary for success, but lacked the willingness to work for it. On the other hand, there are thousands of successful men who possess mere ability rather than genius, who have won their places simply by hard work and square dealing. Personally, I have never yet held an easy position, and the union scale of honor would seem like a vacation."

"Many of my rules of conduct are based on advice an old Scotch schoolmaster and friend gave. 'My young friend,' he used to tell me, 'always have somebody back of you.' For a long time I could not figure out what he meant. Finally I obtained an explanation, which was so illuminating that I have always applied it and am still applying it in my business life. What he meant was to have a subordinate who was so good that if I stepped out he could fill my job. If he was really good he would literally push me out of my position. If I was any good when he pushed me out I would go up and not down."

RIPPLING RHYMES

SPECULATION

Sometimes I murmur and repine and all my life seems sad and sour, for every time I buy a mine it fizzles out in half an hour. Oh, some grow rich by digging gold or tin or pewter from the earth, and all the stocks and shares they hold are things of an increasing worth. But when I buy up mining shares production in a minute stops; the mine has joined the other snarers, the bottom from the venture drops. All mine owners would be well to heed the lessons I have learned, they need their bundles out of oil; in pomp and panoply they ride, they needn't buckle down to plow. I've heard them when they talked and chafed, their fortunes never know a hitch; it seems to be an easy graft to deal in oil and so get rich. But when that sort of thing I'd try and buy a well with hard-earned yen, in half a day that well goes dry and I am busted once again. Some grievous lessons I have learned, but not for long a lesson sticks; throughout my pilgrimage I've yearned to blow myself for gilded bricks. Some day, I think, a brick will prove to be of pure and yellow gold; as down the porchouse road I move, this fatuous belief I hold. Some day my wells will turn out grease and I'll have diamonds on my hat; some day my awns will all be geese, my goat will be a Maltese cat.

WALT MASON.

THE PRESTIGE OF EXCLUSIVENESS

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Ellen Terry, England's veteran and beloved actress, is publicly deploring the publicity, the vulgar lack of exclusiveness which is prevalent both in her own profession and the films today.

Flapper actresses in both branches of the profession, she declares, are much more concerned with the exploiting of their own personalities, their private lives and most anything pertaining to them—the great detriment of any art they may possess.

These pretty young things spend altogether too much of their time lurching, dining, teasing and dancing in restaurants and having their pictures taken in every conceivable pose having no relation whatever to their professional art.

Miss Terry's point is that a little mystery, a little illusion, more personal privacy are essential to the life of an actor. Enveloped in mystery, they were extraordinarily alluring to the public. But seen everywhere, "mixing," exposing all the details of their private lives as they do, they have in study dispate the enchantment of the public, but acquire a frightful appetite for exploiting themselves as themselves and thus deliberately ruin the art of every one they are in contact with by their selfishness, sacrificing it upon the altar of their personal vanity.

If Miss Terry had her way—as for Hollywood—every actor and actress would, when not making a professional appearance, keep themselves enveloped in privacy, associate only with their most intimate friends and that only a private home. They would go to bed early, rise early and keep their contact with the public exclusively in the role they are playing.

And the only publicity would be the announcement of their coming and technique with which that particular role was performed.

In fact, this actress, who has retained the affection and respect of the public for over fifty years, considers that the actors and actresses of today, and particularly the picture stars, are vulgarizing their profession and, by indulging in all-night parties, running around to all sorts of social functions, wearing out their nerves and exposing their very human personalities, are cheating their public of their best attainment and doing their whole profession a particularly bad turn.

She would have them spend any leisure time they have in study and self-improvement, in quiet domesticity and social seclusion. That, she thinks, is their only chance, not only of being worthy of the affection and respect of the public, but of maintaining and improving their art as an interesting profession.

This fatal publicity, thinks Miss Terry, is the fundamental cause of the banal level upon which the motion-picture industry rests. No matter what promise of genius an actress may evince at the outset, proper fulfillment can never be attained because of the vanity exploited and encouraged which inevitably defeats any personal ambition for self-improvement. The pretty young things are encouraged to feel assured that they are permanently distinguished and perfect as they are and that there isn't any need of or room for improvement.

There has been quite a futter in picture circles because George Beban found 80 per cent of the picture stars "dumb-bells"—and said so out loud. Yet 80 per cent was a conservative estimate as taken to mean they are by no means as capable and clever as they could be. Of course, by "dumb-bells" he means that they are sadly dumb on all the questions that matter, that they contend with their pretty selves just as they are and show precious little evidence of daily growth, expanding intelligence, intellectual ambition. They are more than content to back logically in that place to which it has pleased a reckless Providence to call them.

The indignant protesters hastened to name certain beauties who refuse this indictment. But they were not so sure, for they said content with their pretty selves just as they are and show precious little evidence of daily growth, expanding intelligence, intellectual ambition. They are more than content to back logically in that place to which it has pleased a reckless Providence to call them.

The battle of Thames River, fought in Canada in the year of 1812, resulted in an American victory. The American army was commanded by Gen. William Henry Harrison. Gen. Henry A. Proctor led the defeated army of mixed British and Indians. Tecumseh, chief of the Shawnees of Ohio, was killed during the fighting. The battle lasted only fifteen minutes. Six hundred British were taken prisoner. The Indians fled and were never again organized. Year, 1812.

Chester Alan Arthur, twenty-first President of the United States, was born at Fairfield, Vt., in the year 1829. He was nominated for Vice-President by the Republican party in 1880 and succeeded to the Presidency on the death of President Garfield. The chief events of Gen. Arthur's administration were the Yorktown Centennial, the Atlanta Exposition, the reduction of letter postage to 2 cents and the industrial development of natural gas. He died at New York City in 1886.

In 1881 the first International Cotton Exposition was opened at Atlanta, Ga.

PERSISTENCE OF GIANTS WINS SMASHING VICTORY OVER THE YANKEES

Successive Singles Crowned With Sacrifice Fly Seal Doom of Huggins

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The unconquerable spirit to keep winning success doesn't come at first carried the New York Yankees to a smashing victory this afternoon in their baseball championship game with the New York Americans for the 1922 title of baseball champions. The score was 3 to 2.

Young's Catch Did the Work, Avows Huggins

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Miller Huggins, the Yankee boss, had no excuse for Bush's cracking in the eighth inning. "The Yankees," he said, "should have had more runs. Young's great catch of Scott's liner in the fifth, with two on the bases, won the game for McGraw's men. If it hadn't been for that catch we would have made at least two more runs. But it happened."

"Last year we learned that the Giants were a team of fighters and we appreciate their power on the offensive. Their defense, however, won for them today, in my opinion."

MITCHELL DESERVES TITLE, SAYS DIEGEL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW ORLEANS (La.) Oct. 4.—Leo Diegel, declared that the title of the southern golf championship, said today he believed Mitchell entitled to the title. "I think in fairness to Mitchell, I should give an account of what occurred," Diegel says. "After the tie on the play-off, Mitchell suggested to me that we play three additional holes to decide the match. I agreed, and in view of the fact that there were some members of the association present and no objection was made, we did so. In this play, Mitchell defeated me squarely and fairly, and I, therefore, think he is positively entitled to the championship and I hope the Southern Golf Association will reverse its decision."

Has a Good Word to Say for Joe Bush

BY JOHN MCGRAW

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—I consider that the Giants had a great send-off by winning the first contest of the world's series. They came from behind as I foretold they would, fully as capable of doing in the baseball classic of the year as they did during the championship season. I am not one who thinks that by winning the initial game we have this series clinched. However, we are on our way.

My boys had several chances to win out before the eighth inning and I wish to compliment Joe Bush on our not doing so. He pitched masterly ball in fooling my most reliable batsmen at critical stages before they made their big rally. By the way, while I am not of the gloating sort, I will merely ask of the propagandists who spread the report that the Yankees were 3 to 5 favorites: If the odds have shifted, who offered those figures as a betting proposition? I would like to know for my friends who desired to place wagers on the odds were unable to locate anyone who would take them.

Giants Come Through With Driving Finish

Were Crude at Times but There in a Pinch

Bush's Red Undershirt Not Potent as Usual

BY HILWOOD BROUEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Giants shook themselves in the eighth and ruined the Yankees. With a marvelous driving finish, they won the first game of the world's series at the Polo grounds by a score of 3 to 2. Before the rally, the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the Yankees and Bush, who was pitching with skill and great courage, seemed to have the game well in hand. Then, after taking the lead, the Giants killed a spirited rebuttal in the ninth with a dazzling double play.

Indeed, McGraw's men did everything which is to be expected of a great team. They were crude at times, but when power was needed, they turned it on. The winning rally was made up of four successive singles and a sacrifice fly. Both Groh and Meusel hit the first ball pitched. Any story of the game ought to bubble with enthusiasm. And it should be written by a Giant fan. The better team won, but that's no consolation to us. A far different result would have been more appealing. Drama and action would have been served by a Yankee victory.

Pomona Chances for Victory Over U.S.C. Dealt Blow

SAGEHENS LOSE HUSKY TACKLE

Leslie Baynam Breaks Nose and is Out for While

Coach Nixon Means Over His Inexperienced Ends

Sagehens Give Up All Hopes of Defeating Trojans

CLAREMONT, Oct. 4.—Pomona's chances of beating U.S.C. here Saturday, however slight they may have been, became as this as a restaurant pancake today when it was learned that Leslie Baynam, picked as one of the most promising Sagehen linemen, would be unable to appear against the Trojans. Baynam's position was right tackle, and his 150 pounds of beef had been aiding in putting some much-needed weight and drive in the Blue and White forward wall. However, against the Trojans Saturday the big boy had his nose smeared all over his face, and an X-ray disclosed the fact that the organ is badly smashed. His place is being filled by Jimmie Carter. "What's all this noise about my having a whole flock of experience?" asked Coach Nixon yesterday.

"I wish I had one really experienced end. There are a raft of dumbbells trying out for the wing berth, but if I've got eight experienced ends it's the first time I ever knew it. They must be hiding under the bleachers or at home playing checkers. Charlie Dugan is pretty good, but Charlie is too fast. He overruns his plays. You would hardly think an end could be too fast, but Dugan is too quick on most of the plays. Bill Haughton is too strong and consequently makes some bad moves. I'm afraid he is muscle-bound. Braven Dyer plays most of the time with his eyes shut, and persists in getting sucked in until he looks as foolish as a wandering missionary at an assemblage of head hunters."

All of which is true, figuratively speaking. The Pomona ends are not experienced. They are only mediocre wing men and cannot be counted on definitely to head off the strong Trojan end run.

SOUTH PASADENA WINS FROM LINCOLN, 19-0

South Pasadena's footballers shut out the Lincoln High School second-string men, 19-0, on the Pasadena field yesterday. Walter Taylor, 125-pound fullback, and the star player, suffered from a broken shoulder in the last quarter, when he was spilt by a couple of husky Halfpitts while making an open-field run. Taylor was responsible for two of the touchdowns, which were made on line bucks. Cleveland made the last tally by intercepting a pass and running fifty yards for a touchdown. McEntire converted the last goal.

TICKETS FOR CAL. VS. U.S.C. GAME ON SALE

Tickets for the University of Southern California vs. University of California football game, which is to be played at Tournament of Roses Park, October 13, have at last been placed on sale to the general public. Applications for the tickets must be sent to Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of the University of Southern California. All tickets are $2.00. At a late hour last night the graduate manager announced that 10,375 seats had been sold.

Herb White kept up his bluff a little better by letting Pasadena High School step on him for a fairly large score last week. He did not put Dennis into the game because he claimed that Roy had not gotten over his strained shoulder which had been bothering him for a couple of weeks. Maxwell was also kept out of the game by a sprained ankle.

If the team that was put into the Pasadena scrimmage was the best in line tactics that the Trojans can muster, they had better get a new line, according to high school football authorities. Accordingly, White has set out to make a new line before the first game of the season, which is to be played at Manual Arts.

Hollywood and Pasadena are expecting more interest to be manifested in the gridiron game this season, and as a result have invested some of last year's earnings in seats.

The smallness of the bleachers at Hollywood has always been a great handicap to the football school, but with the new set of bleachers 3000 more persons can be seated than last year. Pasadena has blown itself to a new section of cement grand stand which it is estimated will hold more than 3500 persons.

Daughter's Franklin High School squad is coming along nicely, according to the mentor. He will not mention the name of any star as he says that he does not want his men to get the "swelled head."

It looks as though Mike Godette and Bob Lee were to be the stars of the team. Lee's kicking seems to have been the biggest factor in the practice games which have been held, and he improves with age.

Poly is not doing much talking, but the way that the Blue and Gold boys are being bumped around their Twenty-third street field is evidence that they are a new team.

By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Now and then under the heavy coating of commercialism there is to be found a real heart throb in professional sports. The following incident, witnessed apparently by only a few, and largely ignored at the time, is herewith given just as it was written and sent to me by J. J. Lowman, 1409 South Gramercy Place, this city. Comment could not add to it:

"It has been my privilege for many years to have been fortunate enough to have lived in a city representing either the American or National leagues. Just how many has nothing whatsoever to do with this little story. I will say, however, that I recall Pop Anson, King Kelly, Clarkson, Pat Tebeau, Meaher and other celebrities of days now long gone; the organization of the Brotherhood League and its untimely demise.

"During the years that have passed I attended regularly all games when possible. I feel that in some small measure I am quite conversant with the past and present game, the personnel and their records and some of the so-called great plays that have been pulled off. The recent world series between Brooklyn and Cleveland was notable in many ways for the spectacular. Wamby of Cleveland executed a triple play unassisted. Elmer Smith made a home run with the bases full, knocking the ball out of the lot; Jim Bagby also made a home run. All this in one game and the heroes all of the Cleveland team.

"Cleveland beat Brooklyn three consecutive times and the last game, deciding game of the series he was elected by speaker to finish it up.

"During this particular season my box was near that of President Jim Dunn's of the Cleveland team. During the Brooklyn series this box was occupied by the president and his wife and a little gray-haired woman well advanced in years. It was soon noted about that this little old lady was the mother of Trip Speaker. 'Vitality alert and vivacious her eyes never left her boy, not even after he had gone into the dugout. I had watched Speaker from his Texas days to his meteoric rise in Boston. Gray-haired, earnest and robust he was this day at the very pinnacle of baseball fame. I had seen Speaker many times in public places, but never had the pleasure of meeting him. His quiet personality and carriage of a leader had, however, impressed me most favorably, aside from the fact that he was an exceptional and wonderful ball player.

"The last and deciding game of the Brooklyn-Cleveland series Speaker made the last put-out. The crowd started onto the field and after Speaker. This must have anticipated this for with the catch he was off like a shot and dodging and squirming he made for the box of President Dunn, some twenty-five thousand wild and delirious fans following him. Cutting across the diamond much more like a football player than a center fielder of a victorious team that had a minute ago won a world's series he managed in some way to climb into the box. He held the ball and cap in one sturdy, brown hand and with his arms encircled his mother. One could almost visualize his saying, 'Mother of mine, mother of mine.' Down the furrowed cheeks the tears all unheeding and in her eyes the light of a great love and understanding for this boy of hers. Boy of mine, boy of mine. The crowd was thinning, the shouts and tumult died away and yet I stood not twenty feet from the mother and her boy. Some few beside my seat were drawn by this simple, sweet display of emotion and I found by looking at my wife and near-by watchers that mine were not the only tear-stained cheeks. For forty years I have seen them come and go, play brilliantly executed and wonderful feats of team and individual work, but this little tribute of Speaker's to his mother was the most impressive and wonderful thing I ever witnessed in organized baseball."

WHAT THE PREPS ARE DOING

Manual Arts and Los Angeles high schools are still going around growling at each other like a pair of half-tamed bulldogs. As a result of this the majority of the other high school mentors have come to the conclusion that both Sid Foster and Herb White are trying to bluff some one and as a result there is no one falling in to the trap.

Foster gave the strength of his team away last Saturday when he left his men walk all over the Santa Barbara team and then came back and said that it was done mostly by his second team.

Herb White kept up his bluff a little better by letting Pasadena High School step on him for a fairly large score last week. He did not put Dennis into the game because he claimed that Roy had not gotten over his strained shoulder which had been bothering him for a couple of weeks. Maxwell was also kept out of the game by a sprained ankle.

ADAMS TO TAKE JOB OF BOYLE

Report That Trojan's Line to be All Torn Up by Loss of Star Tackle

Holly Adams, former San Diego High School football star, who has been playing guard on the second string of the University of Southern California, has been shifted to the line of the varsity.

The shift was made because of the loss of Johnny Boyle, star tackle, who was sent out of the game last Saturday with a fractured knee. Henderson is still in the glooms and declares that Adams is not half good enough to take the place of a man like Boyle, but at the same time he declares that he hasn't anyone that is any better.

Although no very definite dope has been handed out, it is rumored among the university fans that Boyle will be all torn up and that "Tuck" Pythian will play at tackle instead of end. Caland will play center, and Anderson will stay at tackle. Hawkins and Adams guard. The ends are not yet decided with any degree of certainty, but it is rumored that Emmerson and Boyle will hold these berths along with Milton, all of them taking turns.

CARDS IN FIRST TILT

Andy Kerr's Lads to Tackle Strong Olympic Club Eleven Saturday in Stanford Stadium

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 4.—Destined by practically all the professional predators of the bay region to lose its first game by at least one touchdown, Stanford will open the 1922 Cardinal grid season against the San Francisco Olympic Club Saturday. Coach Bob Evans and his clubmen have gathered a formidable outfit of former stars which is at present rated among the best in this vicinity, many experts expecting a victory over California as well as Stanford.

The Olympics have played three practice games, and know just where they stand. With their organization is King of Annapolis, Latham of California, Bradshaw of Nevada and Patrick of Stanford. As the contest is Kerr's first, he is forced to choose to a large extent the strongest combination among his men. He indicated today that his lineup will start in the backfield Campbell, quarter; Cuddeback, full; and Wilcox and Murray, half-backs. In the line Capt. DeGroot will start at center. Ladd and Craven are favored as guards. Shipke and Johnston, tackles, and Janney and Doan ends. Leavon and, of whom much is expected this year, is still on the injured list. His knee is still hurt him out for probably another week.

Gilbert Wheat, the young quarterback who finally proved the best of last year's freshmen, has been coming along so fast among the varsity backs this season that observers are almost unanimously agreed he must find a berth with Kerr's regulars.

Dit Templeton has another kicker whom he will try Saturday, circumstances permitting. Cleveland, of the 1921 goot, has developed a host of excellent possibilities, with a substantial 50-yard average for the week. Four kickers are in the line. Templeton, Taylor and Frisch are the punters in the Stanford line. Taylor and Frisch are the punters in the Stanford line. Taylor and Frisch are the punters in the Stanford line.

YANKS RUINED IN THE EIGHTH

Bancroft was the first man up and with a count of 2 and 3 he singled sharp and clean to right field. Helie Groh, who was a demon all day, cut the ball between Pipp and Ward. The Yankees second baseman dived for it and rolled over a couple of times but he could not reach it. Ruth held Bancroft on second with a good throw. Frisch took one ball and then lined a single to left.

That filled the bases as Bancroft took no chances with Bob Meusel's arm. Now it was up to the other Meusel. He was full of aggressiveness and hammered the first ball directly back at Bush. It struck in front of the pitcher, who threw his hands up and touched the ball. He could not break it down or deflect it. The ball was going too fast for that. It tore through him and over second base into center-field.

Both Bancroft and Groh scored and Frisch reached third. Bush went out and was roundly applauded as he took the long walk to the bench. In came Hoyt. With a count of three and one, Young swung hard and sent a long fly to left center. Whitely Witt made a brilliant catch but he was driven too deep to do anything with the ball. Frisch ran home with the third run. At last, the Giants were in the lead and they were never headed again.

PUT ONE OVER

For five innings neither side scored, but in the sixth the Yankees put one run over. After Bush had gone out Whitely Witt made a three-base hit. It was rather a dubious one. He sliced the ball in a looping fly which dropped close to the left field foul line. Irish Meusel tried hard for a catch but the ball got away from him and Witt pulled up at third. Dugan hit sharply but straight at Bancroft, who headed whitely off and the ball sailed to the plate. Before Witt was run down Dugan got to second.

Nehf worked carefully on Ruth and had two strikes on him. One called and the other was a curve which Babe missed by a mile. "He's a hard one," said Matty. "He's just as likely to hit your two strikes," and Ruth did. Nehf tried the same curve and Ruth's prodigious swing would have missed it but in full career the Babe checked his lunge and altered the arc of his bat. He did no more than chop the ball, but it sailed into short right for a single and Dugan scored from second.

The second run, which came in the seventh, was mostly Nehf's fault. A remarkable play turned the Yankees back in the ninth. Pipp began it with a fine crashing single past Bancroft. Meusel took a ball and then missed a swing by a foot or so. The next was to his liking. He nailed it and the ball sped on a line toward right-field. Frank Frisch took five of the fastest steps ever seen on the diamond and caught the ball. It was easy double Pipp. Scoring grounded out from second to first it was all over. "Guess I'll go over to the clubhouse and see the boys," said Matty.

CINDERPATH AFFAIR AT RIVERSIDE

Plans Are Completed for Big Track Meet at Fair; Stars Plan to Enter

More than 100 track and field stars are expected to take part in the second annual track and field meet which is to be held Saturday, October 14, at the Southern California Fair at Riverside.

Dean Cromwell, track coach for the University of Southern California, is in charge of the affair and according to his statement there is going to be some of the closest competition ever has ever been seen in a Southern California track meet. The biggest handicap to the meet is the fact that the U. S. C. vs. Arizona football game is to be held on the same date and as a result there will be a number of U. S. C. stars who will be unable to compete.

However, among those who are to take part are Earl Wilson, star all-around athlete, and intercollegiate broad-jump champion, Bud Houser, shot-put star who recently went back to New Jersey in an attempt to win the A. U. championship; Ed Shaw, dusky quarter-miler of the University of Southern California, who holds the national championship in the 440. These will be supplemented with a large number of men who have signified their intention of entering the meet but have not as yet turned in their entry blanks.

The events which will be open are 100-yard dash; 220-yard dash; 440-yard dash; 550-yard dash; two-mile run; pole vault; sixteen-pound shot put; running high jump; javelin throw; running broad jump.

Prizes will be awarded the first three places in each event and will consist of gold, silver and bronze medals. The only rules governing the entries are that every man must be a member of the Southern Pacific Branch of the A. A. U.

Meadowbrook Wins in First Polo Contest

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) MEADOWBROOK CLUB, WESTBURY (N. Y.) Oct. 4.—The Argentine Federation polo team slowed up sufficiently today to permit a makeshift line-up in the Meadowbrook colors to win the first game of the international polo series, 7 to 4. The Americans need another victory Saturday to establish definitely their superiority.

There was a bad spill in the last period when the South Americans made a frenzied attempt to score the victory for themselves. Capt. Lewis L. Lacey of Argentine, Capt. Devereaux Milburn of Meadowbrook lost a leg at tackle. Having thrown from his saddle, the horse stopped quickly and injured its left foreleg.

POMONA PREP GRIDS MUST GAIN IN SPEED

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) POMONA, Oct. 4.—Pomona High School's light football team will have to gain in speed and fight if they make any showing this season, is the prediction made today by Coach I. H. Van Cleave. Lighter than most high school teams of the Citrus Belt League, Coach Van Cleave charges only average 145 pounds. The eleven that will meet the Riverside team October 13 on the local grounds has not been picked.

TAKES BIG DROP TO HEAR SCORE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Oct. 4.—While a crowd near by watched a world series bulletin board here today, Lester Garceau, 35, a window washer, fell from a third-story ledge to the sidewalk. Spectators thought he had been killed. But he was unhurt.

"What's the score," he asked as he came out of a daze.

Your Share of Electrical Progress

For more than thirty years hundreds of thousands of men have been constantly at work to perfect electrical service and to reduce its cost to you. There are hundreds of millions of dollars invested in the electrical industry. In California alone the power investment is over $567,000,000.

Great manufacturers, such as the General Electric Company, and many others are producing electrical appliances and materials that, by providing convenience and comfort, have turned thousands of houses into homes.

This is electrical progress.

Every householder may share in this progress but—only as much as the house-wiring will permit. One electrical outlet in a room where four are needed, sub-standard materials and poor workmanship, do not permit a very large share, and cause endless dissatisfaction. Only the best service, only standard materials and appliances supplied by qualified and responsible electrical contractor dealers are worth buying.

A helpful guide in finding the "best" is the orange and blue "check" seal which the Pacific States Electric Company, the largest distributor of electrical merchandise on the Pacific Coast, uses to identify its complete line of standard electrical materials and appliances, chosen from the markets of the world, inspected, and certified as standard. These products are distributed by responsible contractors and dealers who employ good workmanship and who are qualified in every way to give you the kind of service you have a right to expect.

Look for the orange and blue "check" seal.

The electrical appliances shown on this page, together with other standard electrical products, certified by the "check" seal, are described in our new booklet, "The Electrical How for Householders". You will enjoy this booklet, with its many suggestions for the convenient and economical utilization of electricity in your home. It may be obtained free from any electrical contractor or dealer displaying this seal.

G-E TUMBLER SWITCHES—The G-E tumbler switch is the latest device for controlling circuits, and stands up better than any other device made for a similar purpose. It is self-indicating—up and it's on, down and it's off. It can be operated with the arm or elbow should the hands be full and is supplied in both flush and surface types.

WAYNE ELECTRIC BELL RINGERS (TRANSFORMER)—The Wayne bell-ringing transformer, a General Electric product, eliminates dry batteries. It is connected with the household light circuit and adjusts the current to the requirements of electric bell systems. Once installed the transformer functions continuously at a negligible cost to the owner.

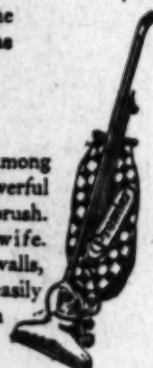

HOTPOINT VALVELESS PERCOLATOR—Made of nickel-plated copper in an artistic design. Equipped with the standard Hotpoint percolating apparatus and safety switch which cannot get out of order or be damaged if the percolator is allowed to boil dry. Starts percolating 30 seconds after the current is turned on.

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY CONVENIENCE OUTLETS—A complete line of standard outlets, distinguished for appearance, ruggedness and durability. Finished in brushed brass or special finishes to match wood work or color scheme of decorations. Will receive all standard plugs, thus furnishing connections for all types of appliances. Recognized as standard by underwriters and technicians.

HOTPOINT-HEDLITE GLOW HEATER—Provides clean and concentrated heat, when and where you want it. It is especially adapted for warming small rooms, bathrooms, etc., and for drying hair after a shampoo. Should the heater be accidentally upset, the automatic switch breaks the current and closes the circuit again when the heater is righted.

PREMIER VACUUM CLEANER—"First among cleaners." Half a million now in use. Cleans by powerful suction alone or by suction plus a rubber-fingered brush. This feature is of great advantage to the housewife. Attachments for cleaning mattresses, clothing, walls, moldings, upholstery, furniture, pianos, etc. It is easily connected to any convenience outlet. Equipped with G-E air cooled motor.

THOR ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE—The Thor washes everything from fine laces to grimy overalls without any rubbing. It does the week's washing in half the time required by hand methods and eliminates all the hard work of hand rubbing and rinsing. The Thor is scientifically constructed. Over 750,000 now in use. Has G-E motor.

WALKER DISHWASHER—The one thoroughly practical dishwasher. On the market seven years and steadily growing in popularity. Thousands now in use. Directly connected with water supply and drain pipes. Practically eliminates the housewife's most disagreeable task and saves fully an hour a day in time. Current and soap powder cost about 10 cents per week. Equipped with G-E motor.

"SUPER" AUTOMATIC HOTPOINT HUGHES—This range has an automatic time and temperature control, eliminating the housewife's close confinement to the kitchen. Equipped with replaceable heating units, either open coil or sheath wire. The oven has two units for broiling and roasting. The Hotpoint-Hughes is electricity's answer to good and easy cooking.

Armstrong's Linoleum

for Every Floor in the House

In a shoe store customers see the floor

This linoleum floor is good-looking, lasting, waterproof, and easily cleaned.

THE shoe store in the picture is Staiger's Shoe Shop in Portland, Oregon, which has a floor of Armstrong's Linoleum.

Sure owners are discovering that in plain colorings or appropriate designs, linoleum is a particularly suitable material for store floors.

Linoleum is smooth but not slippery. It is restful to the feet, and firm though resilient.

Wet days, dry days, and busy days make no difference where Armstrong's Linoleum is properly laid, because the floor is waterproof and durable to the point of permanence.

If you are responsible for or interested in the selection of floors for any store, office, or public or semi-public building, consult your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum merchant about Armstrong's Linoleum.

You will find that linoleum offers not only a satisfactory floor at an extremely low maintenance cost, but that in both plain colors and patterns it offers an opportunity for giving individuality with dignity to a business floor. Our free booklet, "Business

NEW FRANCHISE VETOED BY CITY

Pasadena Directors Act on Road's Request

Southern Pacific Refused
Further Grant

Jitney Owners Would Submit Matter to Vote

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Oct. 4.—The Pacific Electric surprised the City Directors today by making application for a forty-year franchise extension, and the City Directors countered with a surprise of their own by denying the application, without comment, after a short executive meeting.

The Directors also heard today from the recently organized People's League, which opposes "traction monopoly," and from the jitney owners. The jitney organization sent notice to the board that it was preparing petitions for a traction initiative at the November election, which would require the directors to grant five-year permits for bus operation.

The new Pacific Electric proposal, except for the forty-year franchise, is virtually the same as previous proposals. The trolley company asks a double-track line on Los Robles avenue, from California street to Washington street, single track from Washington street to Woodbury Road, and double track from Lake to Hill avenues, on Colorado street. These are the portions of the right of way on which franchises expire soon.

NO COMPETITION

"In view of the large sums of money to be expended your petitioners request the city of Pasadena to agree in such franchises to prevent by all and every means in the power of its legislative body, the installation or existence of parallel competition, either direct or indirect," the Pacific Electric petition read. It was presented by D. W. Pontius, general manager, and Frank Karr, counsel, of the railroad.

After denying the petition and hearing from the jitney people and the People's League, the directors issued a short statement saying they had almost completed their own traction plan and asking the people to be patient.

"The board of directors is about ready to take such action as the problem demands," the statement read. "Its findings in the matter will be made known to the people at an early date. The board naturally expects the people of the city to bear with it until this problem can be considered from every angle and solved as it should be in the interest of all the people of the city.

STUDY QUESTION

"No attempt should be made on the part of the operators of our present transportation system until they have the board or cause it to take unwise action. Individual citizens and organizations submitting petitions should keep in mind that the board of directors has been diligently studying this very important question, which is not easy of solution."

The letter from the jitney interests indicated that if the initiative petition was not ready to be placed on the November ballot it would be filed soon after "unless the object for which the initiative has been resorted to has, in the meantime, been accomplished."

Realtor Files Cross-Charges to Wife's Suit

Robert Garth Cites Attempt Made on Life

Asserts Spouse Too Familiar With Other Men

The sensational and somewhat hysterical married life of Robert L.
Garth, Long Beach realtor, and Mrs. Pearl P. Garth, who once shot her husband, became more involved yesterday when Mr. Garth filed a cross-complaint for divorce in reply to his wife's recently filed action. Mrs. Garth charged cruity; Mr. Garth charges wild parties, attempts on his life, other men and an excess of forbidden liquor.

MEN NAMED

Mr. Garth names two men with whom he declares his wife was unduly familiar. She made trips out of the city with both, staying longer than a married woman should, it is charged.

According to the husband's cross-complaint, which reviews his sensational shooting by Mrs. Garth on one of the principal streets of Long Beach, the wife was addicted to wild parties and wild liquor. He names an occasion when he came home and found his wife under the influence of whisky.

Mr. Garth heard comments about a "mysterious cowboy" who visited his home frequently, the cross-complaint states. Then his wife went to San Luis Obispo with the mysterious son of the West and was gone two weeks. Later she accompanied the same cowboy to Arrowhead Lake and was gone overnight. It is charged. Investigation developed that the mysterious one was Grant Lindley, well known at the beach.

KU KLUX "BLAD"

On one occasion Mr. Garth found a note, he declares, which informed him that Mrs. Garth had "gone on important raid" and which was signed by the Ku Klux Klan. Later it developed that the raid was attended by a party at Pomona attended by Mrs. Garth, Lillian Matney, George Aldahl and Cliff Lewis, the complaint charges.

Several days ago Mrs. Garth sued for divorce through Attorney Henry Hayes. Hayes charged that her husband deserted her and was in the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors. The couple was married in Fort Worth in 1914 and separated August 23, this year.
Mr. Garth is represented by Attorney R. A. Newell of Long Beach.

WORLD TRADERS MEET

First Gathering of Winter Season
Open to Public

Commercial Los Angeles is invited to attend the first meeting of the World Traders tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the Alexandria Hotel. As the first meeting of the fall season, this one has particular interest for shippers.

The existing situation relative to the Central Pacific Railway, is the question to be discussed. Large attendance is anticipated, as this first meeting of the season has been thrown open to all traders and foreign merchants.

BEAUTIFUL.. MODELS..AND.. GOWNS

Brilliant Exposition of Feminine Finery Staged

Peggy in a Kimono

Miss Hamilton displaying the gorgeous Japanese costume which was given to her by Sessie Hayakawa, the cinema star.

In a brilliant exposition of the new modes in feminine finery staged at the Kinema Theater by Peggy Hamilton, Los Angeles is taking a big step in the direction of her aim to be recognized as the style center of America and eventually of the world.

"Vanity Fair," Miss Hamilton has called her offering, and it is a pageant that dazzles by its beauty of model as well as garment.
Rhea Porter, chosen by Miss Hamilton from over 500 models,
"Claire," famed New York model who has been with Lady Duff Gordon, Iris Ashlon, who posed originally in "The gown of desolation," Miss Hilda Lee, a protégé of Ruth St. Denis, and Miss Louise Walker, exponent of eccentric dancing are among the models who display the newest modes as conceived by Miss Hamilton.

A remarkable thing is an original creation designed and executed by Miss Hamilton using forty yards of willow feather from the Cawston ostrich, lined with self-colored satin and gold braid caught here and there with ostrich medallions, with a Queen Anne collar made from nine large colored ostrich plumes. It is difficult to convey a hint of the remarkable appeal of this creation, whose value is placed at $2500.

Telephone Progress

Each telephone requires the use of a "circuit"—two wires leading through a cable to a central switchboard. When additional telephones are required on a certain street, it may mean a larger distribution cable from the nearest main cable, and when the same thing happens on a number of streets in the same section of a city, and the capacity of cables in place is exhausted, larger main cables to central offices are necessary.

This growth, city-wide, naturally demands more or enlarged buildings, switchboards, subways and terminal equipment of all kinds constructed so as to be readily and economically adapted for future development and extensions. This involves added plant investment and also constantly increasing expense of operation.

The phenomenal growth of Los Angeles has been reflected in proportionate demands upon the telephone company. In the nine months ending September 30th expenditures for additions to plant and general equipment have been authorized in the amount of $8,239,755. This does not include the costs of maintenance and operation. On January 1st there were approximately 162,000 telephones in service; on September 30th, 179,000, a gain of 10.5%. September showed an average net gain of 150 telephones per day.

A noteworthy fact in Los Angeles, and one plainly indicative of the growth and activity of the city, is the increase in the "calling rate"—the average use made of each telephone. September showed the highest "calling rate" in Los Angeles in the records of the telephone company. This, of course, means that the average line is "busier." It means more switchboard facilities and an increase in the number of operators.

Engineers and experts of skill and experience are devoting their time to the study of present and future conditions—to the maintenance and betterment of present service and preparation for the inevitable demands of the future. In this city, owing to the wonderful development, present and prospective, which is a subject of nation-wide recognition, in common with all other utilities they have been confronted with an unusual situation.

In the various departments of this company 6600 employees are making every effort to meet the requirements of the telephone using public of Los Angeles.

WARCRAFT TO CARRY AIRPLANES

North Island Personnel Transferred to Pacific Fleet Dreadnaughts

Every dreadnaught in the Pacific Fleet will in a few months carry its own air force. Orders were received from the Navy Department yesterday assigning 60 per cent of the enlisted personnel of the North Island Naval Air Station to the battleship force.
The airmen will not leave the land station, however, until definite instructions for their assignment have been issued by Admiral Eberle.

Following the unqualified success of the new launching device on the dreadnaught Oklahoma, plans are under way for the installation of the catapults on all ships of the battleship class. Two combat planes will thereafter be carried on board each dreadnaught.
A large shipment of observation planes of the DH-3 Navy type will also arrive here within a month on the transports Capelli and Argonne. It was announced, for use of the Pacific air squadrons in spitting fall-of-shot with the battle fleet during the coming winter target practice and maneuvers.

Can you munch a sour lemon?

Note how the mere thought of it makes your mouth water, provoking a free flow of Nature's greatest mouth disinfectant—the saliva.

Without being sour, but only agreeably bitter-sweet, DENTOMEL, the Den-tificer, retains enough lemon juice to not only induce instant and liberal salivation from the salivary glands, but to increase their alkalinity. The combination of highly alkaline saliva with the lemon of DENTOMEL makes possible a new and higher standard of dental hygiene.

DENTOMEL for Pyorrhea

prevents the formation of Tartar, the cause of gum recession and Pyorrhea.
It contains no soap or harmful abrasives and is absolutely non-poisonous.
Remember, the 4-ounce bottle lasts as long as four tubes of any tooth paste—so that your dollar buys just as much SERVICE and far greater efficiency.

If not the best dentifrice you ever used, return DENTOMEL to the druggist and get your money back.

LEAVES SILENCE

JAMES KIRKWOOD WILL STAR

IN "THE POOL"

By Grace Kingsley

Just concentrated long enough mentally on anything, and you're sure to get it, say the new thought-ists. And that's how it turned out with Channing Pollock and one of our very best picture stars.

In other words, not to keep you longer in suspense, Mr. Pollock has been casting about eagerly to find somebody fitted to play the star role in his new play, "The Pool," when the play goes on in New York, in November. Equally eager has been James Kirkwood to return to the stage in a role suitable to his talents and fame. And now, according to word just received from the east, Mr. Kirkwood has been engaged to create the leading part in the Pollock play in the metropolitan production.

The role is that of the unworthy preacher who tried to live as he believed Christ would have lived had he been on earth today. When the play was produced here at the Majestic, by Thomas Wilkes, Richard Bennett created the role, but

Mr. Bennett is tied up on his macern contract in the O'Neill play,

"He Who Gets Slapped," and so,

of course, cannot play the role in

New York this winter.

Bara Sothen, recently ingene-re of the Majestic Stock Company, is to play the role of the cripple girl who is healed through divine means in the New York production. Frank Reicher is directing.

Who Will Play Trilby?

Who among our pretty actresses has all the qualifications to play

Trilby? Oh, the small part of the least of it! Anyhow, that's the problem that is perplexing James

Young, who is to direct Du Maurier's play, "Trilby," for the screen.

"I know," writes Mr. Young from New York, "the part will give a startling performance of Svengali, but where, oh, where,

can I find a Trilby? The characters must be the prototypes of the book, just as my production of

"Oliver Twist" respects the characters and scenes of Cruikshank."

Mr. Young's door will not be troubled by the well-known wolf

for a while, anyway, as the director has been signed up to direct

"The Bird of Paradise" as well as

"Trilby."

Where Is Lady Diana?

The whereabouts of England's famous society belle and picture star, Lady Diana Manners, are enshrouded in mystery at the present writing. News that she has arrived in the United States has been received by her friends in Los Angeles, and the report is out that she is to come to Los Angeles. The Ambassador Hotel has been addressed to the English noblewoman, but as yet no whereabouts have been made at that hotel. So, if Lady Diana is here, she is traveling about among us incognito.

Leo Carrillo's first photoplay offering is to be shown at the California theater next week, and it is thought that she may be on her way to the western premiere of the picture.

PATRON OF ARTS

VALENTINO PURCHASES

WORKS AT EXHIBIT

By Edwin Schallert

The Valentinos have arrived in the social world of New York. At least, that part of the social world which is linked with the artistic.

Mrs. Valentino, it appears, has established—or at least reiterated—herself as an artist by promising to send some of her works to the Italian-American Art Association

Exhibit at the Civic Club, according to wire advices from the East.

Mr. Valentino and his wife visited the exhibition of Italian art yesterday. Upon being presented Mrs. Valentino declared

she desired to become a member of the Italian-American Art Association.

Rodolph became a patron of the arts simultaneously. For after he viewed the exhibit he purchased the work of one of the sculptors, called "The Winged

Centaur," a symbol of automobile power; another is an automobile, called "The Hawk Tower,"

Yale University; still others are a landscape by Sig. Seaborn and a

A tea was served in honor of

Mr. and Mrs. Rodolph, Mr. and Mrs. Valentino, which was attended by the artist members, and the star and his wife were acclimated

honorary members of the Italian-

American Art Association.

Sign Character Actress

Noted for her portrayals of grade damsels, the latest being in Rupert Hughes' "Remembrance," which is showing at the California theater. Kate Lester has been placed under contract by the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation.

Miss Lester has made a distinctive place for herself on the screen in society roles. Among the pictures in which she has appeared for Goldwyn are "Dancing Queen," "The Glorious

Adventure," "The Unknown,"

"The Double," "The Roman,"

"Made in Heaven" and "Stop Thief." She was formerly on the stage playing leads with Richard

Widmark, W. H. Crane, John

Drew and others.

Wallace in Vanderville

Henry Wallace is to make his appearance in "The Unknown,"

a play written by Ethel Clayton of this city, Monday at the Orpheum.

In this he portrays a dual role,

the unknown soldier of France, buried with signal honors;

the other, the father. The theme of the play is tragically emotional.

As Production Editor

Ralph Block, motion-picture expert and former dramatic critic, has been engaged by Famous

Players-Lasky as production

editor at the West Coast studio, according to announcement made by

L. Lasky, first president. Mr. Block was formerly with Goldwyn's in a similar capacity.

FANCHON AND MARCO

The return of Fanchon and Marco to the Orpheum next week is of special significance to Los Angeles, in that these two clever young folk are from this city; their parents still live here, and so do they when they are at home. In fact, Marco Wolff made his start here as a newsboy on the Times force, and he and his sister secured their musical education through a scholarship contest in which young and hustling Marco won a prize that entitled them to a course in music at a college here. The two profited so much by their endowment that it was not long before they were doing music and dance turns in local cafes. Then the Orpheum picked them up and gave them a real chance, which again they improved to the nth degree. Later years have brought them success in large measure even to the production of their own musical show, which was a hit in New York and Boston last season. They will play only a brief vaudeville tour this fall, again going into their own musical comedy troupe later.

SIMPLY AND HUMAN

Simplicity and humaneness, thrills and sensations; success—such

"The Humming Bird," which is now approaching the sixteenth week of a highly profitable engagement at the Regent theater. Maude Fulton, the little title writer-star, has made a successful study of the Apache life and personality, and proof that people who attend the picture shows are not without brains. The story carries the same heart appeal which has made the author so popular with the general public. In the supporting company will be found Robert Ober, Henry

Hall, Wilfred Lucas, Edwin Boles,

Grace Travers, Florence Ober,

William T. Roberts, Mia Marvin,

Curtis Engler and others.

MAE MURRAY IN PERSON

Ma Murray, the star of "Broadway Rose," now playing at Loew's

State theater, is going to be presented at the theater in person Sunday evening. The demand for an appearance of the star has been so great that Ma Murray has consented to be on hand for both evening performances. Since her return from the East, after an absence of more than four years, Ma

Murray has been filming "Cora-don," a new spectacle directed by

Robert Z. Leonard, who produced

"Broadway Rose."

California Furnishes Many Profitable Fields for Employment of Capital

California is a young State, with vast natural resources and industrial potentialities still in the undeveloped stage. It has all the ingredients for prosperity and capital, and it is the investment banker, with the investment funds of the nation at his back, who can and does supply that. Under his direction the East, the North and the South are able to join in the upbuilding of the West and reap the profits thereof.

The growth in prosperity of the people of California in agriculture, horticulture, manufacture and all of the other industries that go to make progress and wealth, we have only to consult the formal statements of our banks. Five years ago California had a total of 825 banks and branches, of which 191 were in the national system and 574 in the State system.

Great Development Projects Make State Leading Factor in Impressive Financing

What is an investment banker? In California the usual definition does not apply. In this State his profession represents a far greater thing than the mere buying and selling of securities. To us the investment banker is that kindly genii who magically turn our wildest dreams of progress into the realities of achievement.

PROSPERITY PULSATIONS

Retailers Quickly Respond to Renewed Activity

Buying Power of the Public is Increasing

Analysis of Encouraging Nation-Wide News

BY EARLE CROWE

Retailers throughout the United States are beginning to sense the first pulsations of returning prosperity, and already some of them are prophesying a fall and holiday trade considerably greater than last year. Estimates in some quarters place the Christmas trade at 15 per cent better than the same period in 1921, while other trade reports refrain from prognosticating, but comment optimistically on increasing volume.

Confirmatory evidence of the inclinations of the public to buy more goods is not lacking. Fundamentally, the ability of the people to purchase goods is dependent upon the prosperity of the country as a whole, and the amount of purchasing power available to each individual. Brief surveys of the general situation show that the nation is approaching a recovery faster than is generally realized.

Reports submitted to the Federal reserve system show that the amount of checks handled by banks is 30 per cent larger than at this time last year. At the same time bank loans are evidencing a tendency to increase, pointing toward expansion in business which has been warranted for some time, but has been held more or less in restraint by barages of pessimism. Manufacturers and whole-salers are paralleling their expansions in operations by obtaining higher prices than prevailed in 1921 as is evidenced by the index of commodity prices showing a 10 per cent increase over the same period last year. Correspondingly, an analysis of the wage scales of the country show that people are able to meet some increase in prices, as industrial payrolls, for example, are 15 per cent higher than a year ago.

STRAWN TELL STORY

Building permits have grown 25 per cent. The growth has been largely in residential construction, although other building has come in for its share of the boom. Freight loadings show an increase of 17 per cent over the same period in 1921, which, as a barometer of industry, is difficult to equal. Lumber and other building materials have formed a large part of the increase, although coal and iron loadings are now swelling the total volume of loadings as industrial enterprises again return to their normal operations. Statistics show that more than twice the amount of pig iron consumed in 1921 is now going into consumption in this country, and again, pig iron as a barometer is almost infallible.

The antithesis of conditions prevailing in labor circles a short time ago is strikingly demonstrated by the signs now hanging on factory doors bearing the significant words, "Help Wanted." There is an actual shortage of labor in the country, and as long as people are working they will have money to spend.

Such a survey is indisputable support of the prophecies made in retail trade circles. People are able to buy, and their ability to do so is growing. Clear away the doubt and apprehension in the minds of the retail consumer, and the volume of trade should portray increases of gratifying proportions.

CALIFORNIA BEAN MARKET

Following are the selling prices for dried beans per 100 pounds in California f.o.b. California, common selling prices as quoted recently by the California Bean Growers' Association:

Large white, 6.25; small white, 5.25; large black, 4.75; medium black, 4.50; red kidney, 4.25; blackeye, 4.00; navy, 3.75; lima, 3.50; pinto, 3.25.

Notes: Beans are in good demand, and prices are firm. The market is expected to remain active for some time.

DAILY TRADE TALK

BY CHAPIN HALL

Financial Editor Los Angeles "Times"

The coming of the delegates to which has brought them across a continent. These men, and the interests they represent are the ones to whom the "well-to-do" of California means much. When they are convinced, as they must be, that we are building upon a rock that neither the winds nor the waves will move, they will be in a position to offer with increased enthusiasm our securities as they are issued.

Fortunately no propaganda is necessary. California sells herself, but it is a very real pleasure to every member of the craft in Los Angeles, and to the citizens at large, to welcome so distinguished a group of constructive business men; and to urge their return for further observation when the convention is over.

It is the purpose of The Times to convey in this section, dedicated to the investment bankers' Association of America, a brief outline of the possibilities here afforded: to introduce to our guests the organization which have cast their lot here; to epitomize for them the financial and market news of the day, and to add the cordial greeting of "The World's Largest Newspaper" to their visit.

They will play with the booming breakers at Santa Barbara, and then for a number of days will devote themselves at Del Monte to the business of possible shortage based upon it, than to European politics. Similarly the future of the dollar, as it should have done if "war scares" had made the recent market, was attributed to the actual supply-and-demand position.

EUROPEAN EXCHANGE ADVANCES

Sterling Recovers 6 Cents to $4.42; Cotton, Wheat Show Continued Firmness

New York "Times" Market Review (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. — While prices on the stock market advanced again today, the day's movement of particular interest occurred in foreign exchange rates and in foreign government bonds. Sterling advanced to $4.42, the highest price since Monday of last week, and closed to the average September price. The day's change marked nearly 6 cents' recovery since last Friday, the day when the foreign dispatches took, on the whole, their most pessimistic view of the eastern situation. Not only the French government and municipal loans, but the United Kingdom bonds also, rose today in the neighborhood of a point, and there were noticeable gains in other continental government loans.

This was undoubtedly a consequence of the news that the preliminary terms had already been signed by the Turkish and Allied commissioners. That European bonds and foreign exchange were very adversely affected by the political misgivings of the past fortnight, has been evident. Even when holders of home securities did not seem to be associating their interests with the eastern disturbance, its influence on holders of European government loans was necessarily bad, and to a considerable extent the same thing has been true of the speculation in exchange.

ADVANCE IRREGULAR

The day's advance in the stock market was again irregularly distributed, but the trend of prices was quite uniformly upward. In a few industrial stocks, which advanced 2 to 3 points for the day, there was probably related repurchases by last week's speculative sellers. Today's announcement of the doubling of the Standard Oil of California's capital through 100 per cent stock dividend, had been expected, and stock dividends do not have all the old-time effect on speculative sentiment.

The day's rise in cotton seemed to be ascribed by the trade rather to Tuesday's reduced cotton estimates and the published information.

THE COUNTRY OVER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BOSTON (Mass.) Oct. 4.—Statistics compiled, although not entirely complete, indicate that general business in New England in September was fully as good or better than it was in August, which up to the present was the banner month of the year. Manufacturing activity is now about 85 per cent of the average rate which prevailed in 1920. The paper industry, always among the first to feel the fuel shortage, was hampered throughout the summer, but the demand for paper is strong, and it is expected that a rapid increase in output will be noted from this time on. The cotton industry is much improved, although still curtailed in spots by labor troubles.

FOR WORTH (Tex.) Oct. 4.—The most noteworthy feature of the business and financial situation in the Southwest has been the constant gain in savings deposits since June 30. Fall trade in the retail lines received a severe setback last week from the hot weather. Department stores reported they had the smallest week since Labor Day. Immediate rains are needed in the grain districts for fall plowing. No rain of consequence has fallen in Texas since May, the period of the disastrous floods. Owing to a betterment of conditions in the fruit markets, banana imports have been resumed through the Port of Galveston. The first boat will arrive Oct. 5. Shipments were discontinued some months ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Building construction continues to set new records in this district. Wages in the building trades are higher than when the deflationary period began, and material prices, builders' assets, have advanced with equal steadiness. Retail trade, especially in dry goods, is reported better and conditions are excellent. Fruit man-

Building Now for Service to Many Generations

THE mountain streams of the West in their fall to the ocean carry 42% of all the hydro-electric energy possible for development in the United States. Today only 7% of that Western power is harnessed.

Planning the utilization of this fall, engineers have platted the course of these streams from the headwaters to the last power drop. Locations for hydro-electric development have been established.

Only the first units of these plans have been constructed. They are built substantially to supply for generations to come a population equal to that of today.

But an increasing population demands a proportionate increase in available power.

The wheels of factories must be turned. Trains must be pulled. Water must be pumped to irrigate the fields. Homes must be lighted.

Upon the completion of this gigantic program for developing hydro-electric power depends the future growth of the West.

Thus, the hydro-electric industry in the West underlies every other industry. It radiates prosperity for the benefit of all the people.

Thinking men have planned carefully the financing of this industry. Investors rightfully have the confidence that their funds are invested wisely in hydro-electric securities.

BUSINESS NEWS

A timely study of branch banking written by John E. Barber, vice-president of the First National Bank, appears in the Analyst, a national financial publication, and in view of the prominence of the subject at this time, the article has special significance to Los Angeles as the outstanding exponent of the newest development in banking. The publicity department of the bank has caused the analysis of the article to be printed in this section of The Times.

POWER BONDS

Dillon, Read & Co. are offering $5,125,000 first and refunding 5 per cent bonds of the Ohio Power Company at 92 1/4 to yield 5.45 per cent, according to information received over the Blyth, Witter & Co. wire. Watkins & Co. and Redmond & Co. have purchased $2,500,000 city of Boston registered 4 1/2, due 1923 to 1947, inclusive, and are offering them at prices to yield from 3.60 per cent to 3.80 per cent, according to maturity.

IRRIGATION BONDS

Palmalee Irrigation District serial 4 per cent gold bonds aggregating $100,000 have been offered for sale by the bond department of the California Bank. The issue is based on irrigation lands in Los Angeles county comprising 4766 acres, of which 871 acres are improved. Including the present issue, the total bonded debt of the district amounts to $445,000.

STRAUS PURCHASE

S. W. Straus & Co. have purchased $1,000,000 4 1/2 per cent first mortgage bonds of the Albert Hotel and Building Corporation of Chicago, and are offering the issue at par and accrued interest. The bonds are a direct closed mortgage on the land, building and equipment of the Sovereign Hotel annex to be erected immediately.

DIVIDEND ANNOUNCEMENT

Directors of the United Oil Company have announced a dividend of 2 cents a share payable October 15 to stockholders of record October 7. It is reported that the company is earning $100,000 and producing $500 barrels of crude oil monthly.

SPIRITED STOCK MARKET

Prices Bid Up in Early Session; Realizing Sales Bring Reaction at Close

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Stock prices were bid up in spirited fashion in the early part of today's stock market session, but heavy realizing sales at the close resulted in a material reduction in most of the gains. Apart from the speculative belief that the recent reaction was an adjustment of a weakened technical position and had about run its course, the buying movement was influenced by the announced intention of the directors of the Standard Oil Company of California to declare a 100 per cent dividend, easier money rates and the improved situation in the Near East.

Standard Oil shares again were the dominant feature. Forty thousand shares of Standard of California changed hands in the first hour, the price being pushed up to 14 1/4, a gain of 1/4 point. Distribution was last night's final close, and 15 1/4 above that of Monday, but it yielded to 14 1/4 at the close today on profit taking. Standard of New Jersey touched 21 1/4, a new high, and 5 1/4 points above yesterday's final quotation, but it fell back materially later, as did Mexican and California Petroleum and Houston and Pacific oils, which were up 3 to 5 points at their high prices. Associated Oil yielded less sharply, showing a net gain of 4 points. Mexican Sea Board issues were reactionary under the depressing influence of further decreases in production in the Toteo field.

POOL ACTIVE
Pool operations were manifest in a number of special stocks. National Biscuit, which jumped 10 1/4 points yesterday, was pushed up another 12 points today, but lost all but 1/4 of its gain before the close. Buying of this stock was based on unconfirmed reports of a splitting up of the present shares and a proportionately larger dividend on the new stock. Coca Cola also rose in response to rumors of

WALL STREET NEWS

BY MONITOR
(RECEIVED BY TELETYPE)
(Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—It is learned that August earnings of all the class one roads should total from $22,000,000 to $23,000,000.
This is slightly higher than previous estimates. In July earnings were about $22,000,000, as against $24,000,000 in June, and $20,000, 000 in August, 1921.

ACCUMULATION OF AJAX
Current strength in Ajax Rubber, one of the most favorably situated of the smaller rubber companies, is reported to be due to accumulation of a substantial long line by a trader prominent in the automobile industry. There is no suggestion that this trader is seeking control of the stock, but rather is buying in purely as a market operation.

ENAMELING AT HIGH
National Enameling established a new high for the year at 45 1/2, and there has been a renewal of the gossip concerning the possibility of a resumption of the 4 per cent dividend rate early next year.

CONTINENTAL CAN
Continental Can at 90 was strong today, although trading was especially heavy. For some time the probability of favorable dividend action in this stock has been one of the talking points of the market, but of late traders have been more inclined to emphasize the substantial results from current operations. In some quarters it is stated that earnings at the present time are running at the rate of 3 1/2 per share.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT
Settlement of the shopmen's strike by the Lehigh Valley was made direct with the men of that road, and does not recognize the national union. The outstanding feature of the settlement, which was announced late today, was the provision made for bonus payments to employees. This practically constitutes a return of piece work, of which President Loomis of the Lehigh has long been one of the leading advocates.

KRESGE IN NEW GROUND
Kresge around 185 was again in new high ground today. Market sentiment was still further improved by the report that all of the notes of this company would be cleared up, leaving only $2,000,000 preferred ahead of the common stock.

STOCK DIVIDENDS
Following the declaration of the Standard Oil of California stock dividend, the oil, especially others in the Standard Oil group, were bought heavily. It is generally expected that other Standard Oil companies, including Standard Oil of New York, will soon follow the example of the California company.

HEAVY BUYING
It was reported in well-posted circles that Rock Island will soon enter the market for thirty Mikado type and ten mountain type locomotives. Later in the year this road should be in the market for about 2500 freight cars.

NATIONAL BISCUIT
National Biscuit crossed 199 today and established another new high record for the year. Wall Street is committed to the belief that National Biscuit will not only declare a stock dividend, but that the dividend rate on the new stock will equal or exceed the present rate.

COCA COLA
Coca Cola, which jumped 3 1/4 points today, was bought on reports that earnings for the year should run from $12 to $15 per share. The regular dividend rate is only $4 per year, but it is expected that at least 10 cents extra dividend will be declared at the next meeting of the company.

P.R.R. EARNINGS
Pennsylvania gross at the present time compares favorably with any other period in the road's history, although naturally net earnings show some effect of the mid-summer strike handicaps. There has been a general disposition to expect an extra dividend at an early meeting, but it is learned that this proposition is not especially favored. It is considered more likely that a resumption of the 2 1/2 dividend rate will be the next important move by the company.

FREIGHT LOADINGS
Reports received as of September 27 from sixty-seven representative roads, show that only four lines reported motive power efficiency below normal. The number of cars loaded with revenue freight on American railroads during the week ended on September 23 was 88 per cent of the greatest loading in history, which was during the week of Oct. 15, 1920. The total for the week was 972,251 cars. This was an increase of 27,323 cars over the week before. It also was the heaviest loading for any one week since Oct. 23, 1920.

CAR SHORTAGE
Requests for freight cars which the railroads were unable to fill immediately totaled 107,666 cars on September 23, according to reports filed today by the railroads. This was an increase of 21,740 cars over the total on September 15.

Amateur Farming
Crabshaw: You get cheap vegetables out in the country, don't you?
Lonelyhurst: I do now, since I stopped trying to raise them myself.—(New York Sun.)

GLOBE PETROLEUM
With the active development work now going on, it is reasonable to expect that the company will be especially attractive in the near future. The stock looks very attractive, especially at present prices. Further information on request.

Erratic Day Prevails in Grain Market

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)
The grain market was characterized by erratic movements today, with prices fluctuating between gains and losses. Wheat and corn prices were particularly volatile, reflecting a combination of local supply and demand factors and international market influences. The market was characterized by a lack of consistent direction, with prices rising and falling throughout the day.

BRANCH BANKING

By John E. Barber,
Vice-President, The First National Bank of Los Angeles
(Reprinted from the Annalist)

The integration of business, which since the war, has been conspicuously evident in the mergers and consolidations which have taken place in the steel, tobacco, oil, automobile and other industries, is also apparent in the banking business, where branch banks are being established in many parts of the country.

Branch banking is further restricted by the Comptroller of the Currency, who in his recent decision has held that a branch bank is one which is established in a place other than the principal office of the bank, and which is authorized to receive deposits and make loans.

COUNTRY BRANCH BANKING IN CALIFORNIA

In this country branch banking has progressed farthest in California, where in addition to numerous "city branches" several large institutions located in Los Angeles and San Francisco have set up large banking systems covering many different communities.

California alone has over 800 branch banks or more than one-third of the total for the United States, and the list is constantly being augmented. It is perhaps natural that California, which has been the leading exponent of the merits of co-operative effort, as typified by the great and successful co-operative marketing organizations, like the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, California Walnut Growers' Association and the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers, should be the first to see the advantages of conducting branches in a co-operative manner.

Our Public Utilities Rated Best-Run Businesses

BY D. T. BARCOCK
Assistant Editor, Blyth, Witter & Company

The early political history of California is a story of railroad and public utility domination of politics, as is the history of most other sections of the United States. Prior to 1911 the regulation of public utilities in this State was conducted on a very inefficient basis.

In order that California might be the experience of her sister States, Max Thelen was sent on a trip throughout the United States, during which he studied very carefully the work of the best commissions, particularly those of Wisconsin, New York and Massachusetts. After a great deal of thorough investigation, he compiled the first draft of our present Public Utility Act, and after conference with his associates sent copies to the various public utility companies and other interested parties, with the request that suggestions with an idea of improving the act be offered for discussion.

In 1911, when this act went into effect, the public service corporations of California were, with the exception of the railroads and traction lines, very much smaller than at the present time. This was true particularly of the gas companies and the electric companies.

BETTER DAY DAWNS

One of the first undertakings of the commission was to make a study of the rates charged by the railroads in California, and this resulted in many material cuts, and in improved service to the public. In the case of the traction companies it was found that, in many instances, they were hopelessly overcapitalized, and in some cases overbuilt, so that to this day several of the roads have been in continual financial difficulty as is true throughout the United States.

The most important development in the public service field has been in connection with the great electric and gas companies of California. These companies being comparatively small at that time, the commission was able to prevent overcapitalization and the payment of dividends on stocks which did not represent real property values.

The demand for power has been so great that there has been little need of competition for territories. In Northern California the Pacific Gas and Electric Company was formed by the merger of many smaller companies operating around San Francisco Bay and up into the Sacramento Valley. Since 1911 the Northern California Power Company has been absorbed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and the Sierra and San Francisco Power Company is operated through lease. The lines of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company cover a territory larger than New England.

The Western States Gas and Electric Company, operated in Northern California, and the Great Western Power Company distributed power in San Francisco and other Central California districts which were not already served satisfactorily at a reasonable rate by the other companies.

The demand for power has been so great that all three of these companies have been forced to build constantly to meet the demands made upon them.

POWER DEMAND GROWS
In Southern California the Southern California Edison Company rapidly absorbed most of the smaller power companies in and around Los Angeles, and north to Santa Barbara on the coast and to Visalia in the San Joaquin Valley.

The territory in Southeastern California was covered by the Nevada-California Electric Corporation. This corporation owns the longest transmission line in the world, which supplies the district from Riverside to Yuma, including the great Imperial Valley. San Diego was served by the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company.

The commission early assured the utilities that they would not be subjected to cut-throat competition, provided they gave efficient service at reasonable rates. This, while protecting the consumer against poor service or excessive rates, assured the investor of a reasonable and certain return upon his capital.

GENUINE REGULATION
Rates were changed to avoid discrimination between consumers, lowered when the commission considered them too high, and raised when too low. Being human, the commissioners made some mistakes, but their work was done so openly and they were so ready to discuss contested points that the better public utilities aided the commission in every way possible to arrive at just rates and enforce good service.

This policy proved of the greatest possible benefit to California during the war. Prior to 1912 most of the public utility financing was done in the East. During the war, the shortage of oil and the tremendously increased demand for power brought about an imperative need for capital to install electrical plants and to develop our natural gas supplies.

When the eastern market closed to our California companies, owing to the insurmountable demand for capital, the California companies were able to finance themselves through the sale of bonds and through the sale of stock in this State. Up to the close of the war, the commission enjoyed the confidence of the entire public, and no one appeared strong enough to attack its record. About the time the war ended, however, the demand for power and gas increased more rapidly than ever before, due to the unprecedented growth in population and in industrial activity.

This development work was carried on by highly paid laborers and mechanics and materials were very expensive. Rates were raised on an average of 40 per cent at a time when labor, clothing, rents, food and materials had increased from 100 to 200 per cent. These increases were fought by various city attorneys, and an attempt was made to discredit the commission's rulings. This effort became so strong that a joint committee was appointed by the Senate and Assembly to make a thorough study regarding the activities of the Railroad Commission in California. This committee was headed by Senator Lamm, who had

After a thorough investigation the committee reported back. In the introduction to the report the following statement:

"It is only fair to say that it is with some degree of embarrassment that the committee has been compelled to abandon their preconceived conclusions in the light of the facts that have been disclosed, and in conclusion permit us to call attention to the fact that the public utilities are an necessary part of our future economic development as of other agencies, and that they are entitled to fair treatment and to a fair and just return upon their investment in property used and useful in the public service."

That the time is rapidly approaching when our fuel oil supply will be exhausted, or as nearly so as to become prohibitive in cost, and that the development of the State depends largely upon hydroelectric power.

WATER, GENIE OF THE SOIL

Oldest Form of Community Development Described

Irrigation the Hand Maiden of Prosperity

Expert Tells Why Its Bonds Are Prime Security

BY JOHN H. DINKINS
OF M. H. LEWIS & COMPANY

Irrigation is probably one of the oldest forms of community development known to the history of agriculture and during the centuries that irrigation has been practiced the fundamental principles upon which it is based, have not been materially changed. Modern practices have improved the methods and wrought economies in the application of water to arid lands, but the first principle—namely that of increasing yield and making crops certain through the application of water in the amounts necessary and at the time when it is most required to promote plant growth has never and probably will never change.

A visitor to California cannot be other than favorably impressed with the wonderful agricultural development of the State and it must be recognized that this development has been made possible and can exist only by means of irrigation. Much has been said about the wonderful resources of the State contained in its vast water power resources available for hydroelectric development, but it is obvious that this development would be unwise and unprofitable but for irrigation without which there would be no stability of income with which to purchase the energy produced. Agriculture being the principal income-producing factor in modern civilization it must necessarily behave us to provide methods for promoting and maintaining this industry. In any arid country irrigation is the key-stone in the arch of soil production and the life of the community. It is the structure of which it is the foundation.

IRRIGATION SYSTEMS

Since the days of Spanish rule in California, community development of water resources for irrigation has been in practice. Today there are three main divisions of irrigation development: (1.) Development of water to supply a large body of land by private corporations organized originally as colonization projects, but now operating as water companies serving a highly developed area within the territory served. The typical company of this character is owned by the land owners in a given area for the purpose of developing and distributing water at cost to their lands. In many instances the stock in the company is appurtenant to the land and cannot be separated therefrom. In others, various means are resorted to in order to maintain it as an independent entity purely on a nonprofit community-developing basis. (2.) By far the most important division is the development of the organization of political subdivisions of the State called irrigation districts. Irrigation districts are organized and constituted under the Wright Act of 1917, are political subdivisions of the State. A district cannot be organized except by a majority vote of the land owners in the district, who by similar vote elect the officials which are entrusted with the administration of the affairs of the district after it is formed. The method of incurring debt for irrigation is vitally important as it is in school districts. The method of enforcing the collection of taxes to meet the payment of these debts is also

Visitors Shown Foundations of Our Prosperity

BY THOMAS W. BARKS, Banker, Huntley & Co.

To the members of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, we of Los Angeles extend a most cordial welcome. We were sincerely glad to have you with us yesterday.

We are anxious for you to see at first-hand, from our point of view, what Los Angeles looks upon as the foundation of its continuous prosperity. Every aggressive community rears a citizenry imbued with loyalty and civic pride. That spirit of enthusiasm for a better understanding of the municipal conditions of the ideal climate, the advantages of location, the richness of the soil, supported by sound laws, beneficial and not detrimental to commerce.

The visit of so large a number of representative bond dealers to California on the occasion of the annual convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America should unquestionably promote a better feeling generally in regard to irrigation. It is district bonds by reason of the valuable first hand information which those in attendance will gain through personal observation of concrete results achieved. It is to be hoped that favorable laws, patterned after our own California laws, will be passed in other States where irrigation is necessary in order that those States may be able to enjoy the same favorable market for the bonds of their irrigation districts that California bonds of this character now enjoy.

FRENCH TOUR DESCRIBED

Informative Survey Aids Better UnderstandingSympathetic Appreciation of Republic's Aims
California Itinerary Gives Intimate InsightBY WILLIAM L. ROSS,
President Wm. L. Ross & Company, Inc.,
Secretary Delegation of Investment
Bankers Association

Recognition of the services performed by members of the Investment Bankers Association in distributing hundreds of millions of dollars of French securities to the American people since the outbreak of the World War in 1914, was the occasion for the invitation extended by the French Ministries of Finance, Foreign Affairs and Public Works to send the group of members of the association to France last spring.

Added to this incentive was the fact that the French people have been very sensitive to the criticisms of their course since the conclusion of the war, and they felt that what they call hostile propaganda could be answered best by their banking friends seeing for themselves conditions in France. About thirty-five members of the association, representing nearly all parts of the United States, joined in this survey of France in May and June. Starting out from Paris they toured eastward to Rheims, Epernay and Nancy, then going south passed along the Swiss border and back into Central France, where they went on to Lyon, Marseilles and from Marseilles west along the Mediterranean coast to the Pyrenees Mountains, turning north thence to Bordeaux and Limoges and back to Paris.

A TRAVELOGUE
In this way, by two weeks of constant railroad travel and inspections of cities and industries the group was brought into touch with all sections of France, excepting the extreme northwest. At the conclusion of their travels, they were officially received in Paris by the President of the Republic, by the governor of the Bank of France, by the Bureau, the Credit Foncier, the Association of Banks and the Ministry of Finance. Every possible facility for obtaining precise information regarding industrial, agricultural and financial conditions was extended to them. Official receptions, many of them formal dinners, were extended in all the important cities visited and a generous welcome given with repeated assurances of the eagerness of the representative leaders of French economic and political affairs to express their appreciation of what America had done for France and their desire for the good-will between the two great Republics to continue. The Havilland, being originally an American family, were exceedingly generous in their hospitality and through their kind invitation the members spent an evening at the Havilland home.

FIRST-HAND VIEWS

It is not saying too much to state that the members of the group gained not merely an understanding, but a sympathetic appreciation of the problems of the French people and their government, and with typical French courtesy and tact, nothing in the nature of propaganda was imposed on the members of the party. They, nevertheless, acquired a conception of the attitude of the Frenchman and his basic which could not help but reflect credit upon this country in its present trying situation. This principle of personal visitation has, of course, been the basis for the policy of holding the annual convention of the Investment Bankers Association and the meetings of its board of governors in the interior, in various sections of the United States, thus affording the entire membership an opportunity of ascertaining by first-hand investigation a knowledge of the industrial, banking, agricultural and other business problems of the various sections of the country. The convention in California with its wide itinerary is allowing the members of the group to obtain a far more intimate knowledge of the natural resources of California in water power, oil, agriculture, timber, transportation facilities by both water and land and its many other sources of wealth.

Extensive Golf Program is Set for Convention

BY ROBERT HUNTER,
Hunter, Dolin & Co., Chairman
Golf Committee I. B. A.

As a large number of the visiting investment bankers are golf fans, a substantial turnout is expected for the various link events which have been planned for the convention. At Del Monte the main event will consist of eighteen-hole matches against par for the New Orleans cup presented at last year's convention. One leg of the required three has already been won by Charles D. (Chick) Evans of Chicago. Another competition will probably be held of a four-ball match handicap against par for prizes donated by the California group of the I. B. A. For this play there will be first, second and third prizes; the first to be a perpetual cup which will be competed for annually and will be known as the "California Four-ball Cup." It is expected that the second and third prizes will be in the form of silver cups of lesser size.

For the information of newcomers, it may be stated there are two eighteen-hole courses available at Del Monte, both of which are "expert" enough for the most exacting players. Golfing arrangements in the San Francisco territory are in charge of Vincent Whitney of that city and will be announced when the delegates convene.

TELL TALE OF WONDER CITY

breaking their previous records in growth of population during the last five years.

DREAMS COME TRUE

The population of Los Angeles county increased from 504,139 in 1910 to 940,000 in 1920, or a gain of 85.8 per cent, and the latest government estimate gives the county of Los Angeles a population now of 1,190,000. Who, therefore, can forge a better key to the future prosperity of Los Angeles, than this significant fact that the growth of the country districts back of Los Angeles is keeping pace with that of the city and in some cases even exceeding it.

Los Angeles' growth industrially has been commensurate with its unparalleled growth in population. This is equally true in the case of many of the cities of Los Angeles county. In 1912, according to the United States census, the value of the products manufactured in Los Angeles reached a total of $179,327,000, compared with a total of only $15,134,000 for the products manufactured but twenty years earlier. Since 1919, the value of the manufactured products of Los Angeles has increased by the following statistics: 1919, $103,458,199; 1920, $275,327,000. It is not too much to say that any other city in America can show such a rapid industrial growth.

MANUFACTURING GAINS

Los Angeles has over 3500 manufacturing establishments of various kinds and during 1921 new industries were added to the city at the rate of two every three days. An example of the growth of commerce, which includes a number of industries not considered by the Federal census, places the value of the products manufactured in 1921 in Los Angeles at $300,000,000. The reports of the Federal census bureau have never included the moving picture industry in the list of Los Angeles industries. This industry in 1921 produced films worth $140,000,000. In the list of Los Angeles industries, besides the motion picture, are to be found such industries as the automobile, electrical machinery, lumber products, ship building, airplane, china and glass, automobiles, trucks, furniture and house furnishings, textile, tire and rubber, and fishing and canning. Los Angeles is conceded to be the largest manufacturer of oil well machinery in the United States and is becoming a national factor in the production of electrical machinery. It is conceded to be the largest clothing manufacturing center in the West (Chicago, and has the largest tire and rubber company in the West.

THE STAR OF EMPIRE

Local furniture shops last year turned out $23,000,000 worth of furniture. The best woods of the Pacific Northwest and of Mexico and South America, are being brought here in increasing quantities to be made into furniture for our market. This success points to the day when we will be making our own cotton goods, our own grown in California, Arizona and Texas; our woolen goods from the sheep of the West and Alaska. Great stockyards have been built and are being financed for this city, and a lumber enterprise of such magnitude is being built that for the moment we almost forgot the possibility of a steel industry which the future certainly will provide.

Just as certainly as the tide of population is moving—pushing from the most prosperous population centers of the East and South and Middle West to Southern California, so the tide of industry is moving—pushing steadily in the same direction. Either the eastern manufacturer must become a western manufacturer, as well, or he must compete in the future with the western manufacturer.

POWER DEVELOPMENT

Los Angeles early learned the value of cheap power. Thirty years ago the chief products of Los Angeles county were agricultural and horticultural. What at that time was considered an impassable barrier to the development of industries was the lack of fuel. Coal, the then chief source of heat and power, had to be brought in from a considerable distance, and manufacturing lagged. In that day a large part of the returns from agriculture and tourism went to pay for eastern manufactured products. In 1934 occurred the first considerable production of oil in Southern California, and the production has continued in increasing proportions until today nearly 25 per cent of the crude oil produced in the United States comes from California, most of it within a zone in and surrounding Los Angeles. Today not only Los Angeles county, but a large portion of Southern California is dotted with oil fields from Santa Barbara to the Imperial Valley. United States production of crude oil in 1921 was 483,639,000 barrels, and California's production was 114,449,000 barrels. During the first six months of 1922, 61,092,778 barrels of oil were produced in California, or about one-quarter of the 256,927,000 barrels produced in the United States.

HYDROELECTRIC

The hydroelectric projects now completed, in course of construction and contemplated, are both municipal and private enterprises. The Los Angeles Aqueduct, built at a cost of $25,000,000, leading from the region of Mt. Whitney and perpetual snow, 250 miles from the city, is the basis of the municipal power development. It not only does the Aqueduct supply the city with pure mountain water for domestic and irrigation purposes, but it also develops over 2,000,000 horsepower, but it is also the means of developing for the city $6,000,000 horsepower of hydroelectric power.

Four million horsepower is the estimated power of California's undeveloped hydroelectric power. Anyone attempting to figure out the benefits that are to come to Los Angeles

UTILITY HEAD Links Credit With Success

BY JOHN B. MILLER,
President Southern California Edison Company

There is an interesting analogy between the young State, blessed by providence with abundant natural resources, and a young man of energy, ability and a good character. Both will succeed in spite of any difficulties that may arise, but each will attain a higher degree of success if allowed to use the credit which he has established in institutions can stand.

By the intelligent use of credit the young man can accomplish in two years what would require ten years to bring about if tackled single-handed.

It is credit that is bringing California forward with giant strides, credit as represented by the Investment Bankers Association, credit in the sense of the man who has arrived lending a hand to the youngster who is just starting.

California supplied a comfortable home and an easy existence to the early settlers, without any call for outside capital. But California as we know it now has had to draw continuously on the eastern reservoir of wealth.

We speak with justifiable pride of our highways, our schools, our transportation system, our water-power development, our oil, our mines, our lumber and our vast orchards and farms. All of them have been made possible by credit, the confidence of our eastern friends in our ability to make good.

Obviously, it is the duty of every citizen of this favored State to see that this confidence is warranted at all times.

We speak with justifiable pride of our highways, our schools, our transportation system, our water-power development, our oil, our mines, our lumber and our vast orchards and farms. All of them have been made possible by credit, the confidence of our eastern friends in our ability to make good.

Obviously, it is the duty of every citizen of this favored State to see that this confidence is warranted at all times.

It is credit that is bringing California forward with giant strides, credit as represented by the Investment Bankers Association, credit in the sense of the man who has arrived lending a hand to the youngster who is just starting.

California supplied a comfortable home and an easy existence to the early settlers, without any call for outside capital. But California as we know it now has had to draw continuously on the eastern reservoir of wealth.
